Murder Charged In Death of Man On Vancouver Tug

VANCOUVER (CP)—A murder charge has been laid against Harold Ernest Graham, 41, following an inquest into the death of a fellow crew member of the Vancouver tugboat LaPointe.

The charge was laid Tuesday night by RCMP after a coroner's jury decided Sylvio Zanatta, 39, died of an "unnatural death due to injuries received during an altercation" aboard the tug.

Originally, Graham had been charged with assault causing grievous bodily harm. Zanatta's body was found early Sunday after the tug had left Bellingham, Wash., 70 miles to the south, on a return voyage to Vancouver.

Graham will appear in police court Thursday.

Knifed to Death

CALGARY (CP)—Brian Snell, 17, of Calgary was knifed to death in a backyard fight Tuesday night. Police arrested another 17-year-old, Robert Ronald Yokety, seven and one-half hours after the knifing and charged him with murder.

'I USED TO WATCH MUMMY'

Mother Dead, 4-Year-Old Feeds Baby Sister Alone Four Days

BLOXWICH, Eng. (Reuters)—Ever since Christmas four-year-old Jeanette Cockayne played mother with her doll, Suzette, who is about the size of baby sister Carol.

She fed Suzette regularly with her doll's feeding bottle full of water.

One day in April Jeanette's mother, Mrs. Jean Cockayne, 27, lay still on her bed. Jeanette tried to awaken her because she was hungry and eight-month-old Carol was crying for her bottle.

Jeanette did not know her mother had died in a diabetic coma.

Her father, policeman Gilbert Cockayne, was out of town. The house was empty and Carol kept crying.

Jeanette was too short to reach the door lock to get out and bring help. She tried knocking on the windows and waving to passing neighbors.

They just waved back.

So she decided to take over where mother left off. She got her doll's bottle, filled it with water and fed Carol.

"I used to watch Mummy give Carol her bottle," Jeanette said Tuesday night. "I gave it to her lots of times."

She was just tall enough to reach the cookie jar on the shelf. She shared the cookies with her baby sister. She ate the rest and drank cups of water.

For four days this went on and still nobody came "to help me wake Mummy up."

Then a neighbor noticed too many milk bottles on the Cockayne's front step. A housewife knocked on the door and asked Jeanette to stand on a chair and open the door.

They found Mrs. Cockayne dead in her bed. Little Carol was smiling and healthy.

The story was revealed here Tuesday night—a month after Jeanette mothered her little sister through.

The children are being cared for by their grandparents in this village. Nobody has told Jeanette that her mother is dead. She thinks they have taken her to hospital.

Britain-Egypt Near Breaking Point

Commandos, Warships Reinforce Canal Zone

CAIRO, Egypt (UP)—Britain today ordered her Suez Canal defenses reinforced by tough, battle-ready marine commandos and a squadron of destroyers as her relations with the new government of Premier Mohammed Naguib neared the breaking point.

American authorities, alarmed by the threat of new, open hostilities in the sensitive Mid-East, held urgent consultations with the British.

In London, U.S. Ambassador Winthrop Aldrich paid an unscheduled visit to Prime Minister Winston Churchill, presumably to discuss the worsening crisis.

Hopes that American intervention could head off the new crisis were blighted as the Egyptian press angrily charged U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, now on a fact-finding tour of the Mid-East, with entering a "conspiracy of evil" with Britain against Egypt.

British authorities were frankly apprehensive of new hostilities.

Troops of the 80,000-man British garrison in the Suez Canal zone today dug new slit trenches, repaired barbed wire and got set for possible Egyptian attacks.

GENERAL ALERT

A general alert for British forces in Egypt was sounded after Premier Naguib announced Egypt's determination to oust British forces from the disputed area and urged his followers to die to assert Egypt's sovereignty.

British marine commandos were hastily embarked aboard troop carriers and supply ships at Malta for the trip, under forced draft, to the threatened canal zone. The commandos are among Britain's most experienced and toughest fighting men.

A destroyer squadron was diverted to the canal zone from a cruise along the Yugoslav coast to "beef up" the British defenses.

The decision to reinforce the zone was taken simultaneously with disclosures in Parliament Tuesday of at least 30 incidents involving attacks on Britons in the zone since April 1.

Collapse of deadlocked Anglo-Egyptian negotiations on the future of the canal zone was expected momentarily amid the mounting tension.

Military spokesmen said all possible defense measures were being taken by British forces in anticipation of that development.

Negotiations became stymied on Egyptian demands for immediate and unconditional evacuation of British forces from the canal zone and British insistence that arrangements must be made for gradual withdrawal under conditions guaranteeing the protection and continued maintenance of huge, costly and strategic installations in the zone.

MOSCOW FORESEES U.S.-U.K. IN SPLIT

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russian press today reported on Prime Minister Churchill's foreign policy speech Monday to the House of Commons. There is reason to believe Moscow is interpreting the mixed reception to the speech as indication of widening differences between the U.S. and Britain.

The approval of Churchill's ideas in certain sections of French politics apparently also is not lost upon the Russians. The development of conflict of opinion between the United States and its European partners often has been predicted here, and reactions in Britain, the United States and France to the Churchill speech may be looked upon by the Russians as the beginning of a series of such conflicts.

FULL-SCALE ALERT PLANNED FOR BC

Citizens to Take Part in Exercise That Will Include Pacific States, Alberta

British Columbians will take part in their first civil defense "alert" exercise on the morning of June 20, provincial civil defense headquarters announced today.

At the sounding of the "red alert" citizens will be required to take cover and act just as if a real attack was imminent. Civil defense personnel will take their posts and carry out emergency activities.

Suggested time for the "red alert" is 9:30 a.m.

Provincial Secretary Wesley Black, who is in charge of civil defense, said the final decision as to whether each community will participate will be left to local authorities.

But he urged all areas to take part because it will "... provide an opportunity to inform the general public of the accepted civil defense teaching to meet an emergency of this nature."

"The exercise will give local authorities an opportunity to acquaint as large a section of the general public as possible with the steps they can take themselves to lessen the effects of an all-out attack on this country," Mr. Black said.

B.C. will participate in the sprawling exercise with Pacific Northwest states and possibly Alberta.

Mr. Black explained that at a predetermined time which will be co-ordinated between all parties, municipal warning systems will sound a "red alert."

B.C. PAPER FIRMS TO BE PROSECUTED

Ottawa Charges Distributors, Wholesalers Operate Combine; Companies Identified

OTTAWA (BUP)—Justice Minister Stuart Garson told the Commons today he had ordered crown officials to launch prosecution proceedings against the coarse paper industry of the Vancouver area for violations of the Combines Act.

Garson said the report by the former combines commissioner, T. D. Macdonald, on an alleged combine in the supply, distribution and sale of paper towels, bags and wrappings had been reviewed by attorneys.

Knowland Leads Rap at Britain

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. William F. Knowland (Rep., Calif.) charged today that Britain is preparing for "a Far Eastern Munich," which Knowland contended will make a third world war "inevitable."

He said also that the recent policy speeches of British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Labor Party Leader Clement R. Attlee indicate the United States will be left in a position of "going it alone" in fighting Communists in Asia.

Knowland, in a speech prepared for senate delivery, condemned the British leaders' speeches, and predicted that the upshot will be an effort to seat Communist China in the United Nations.

Knowland, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, used some of the harshest language heard about Britain in many years. Other senators meanwhile warned against a Communist "trap" in the current Korean armistice talks.

Associated Press quoted chairman Dewey Short of the House of Representatives armed services committee as saying Congress is tired of taking "dictation from our so-called allies."

The Missouri Republican made the remark in joining angry congressional reaction to statements in the British House of Commons Tuesday that some Americans do not want to settle the Korean war.

Knowland said the United States should not accept a Korean cease-fire agreement without first getting a "binding pledge" from Russia and Communist China of free elections in North Korea. Unless this is

Red China Bid for Formosa Seen

He forecast an eventual Red China bid for Formosa, the Chinese Nationalist island strong hold. He predicted it will be patterned after Hitler's promise at Munich that Czechoslovakia was his last territorial claim.

"Like Mr. Chamberlain at Munich, Messrs. Churchill, Attlee and Bevan may believe that they will be 'buying peace' in our time," the tragic fact is that they will not be making inevitable World War III for if our stout Allies were so intimidated by this nation taking the only steps which could have been taken to win the Korean war during the past two and one-half years how can we expect them to stand up against this inevitable Chinese Communist demand," Knowland said.

Other members of Congress bristled with resentment at Attlee's attack on this government and its foreign policy.

Both Republicans and Democrats said Attlee was way out of bounds when he told the House of Commons Tuesday that "some elements" in this country want to continue the Korean war.

The former Labor prime minister also criticized the U.S. constitution as an outmoded "isolationist" document, and said the division of powers which it creates in the U.S. government makes it questionable "which is the more powerful, the president or Sen. McCarthy."

None of this was well received on Capitol Hill.

Chairman Alexander Wiley (Wisconsin) of the Senate foreign relations committee said, "No one has any right" to question this country's sincere desire for peace in Korea and all over the world.

He advised Attlee to "renew" that this country has already spent $400,000,000 to work for peace through the Marshall Plan and other foreign aid programs.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said Attlee's speech will stimulate the Congressional drive for sharp cuts in the pending $5,800,000,000 foreign aid bill. He angrily struck a reporter that Attlee had struck "a terrific blow at the hand that feeds Britain."

Sen. John C. Stennis (D-Miss.) was more grieved than angry. "It is a tragedy of our times," he said, "that the English-speaking nations cannot get together on Asiatic policy."

giving the clenched fist salute," McCarthy said.

Rep. James P. Fulton (R., Pa.), of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said Attlee showed a "misunderstanding" of U.S. policy. "The American attitude is not one of antagonism toward the peace overtures from Russia, but one of wanting to see that the gestures are sincere and based on a practical approach toward a just and peaceful settlement."

Godfrey Hospitalized

BOSTON (UP)—Arthur Godfrey, red-haired television and radio star, underwent preliminary tests for a major operation here today.

When I hear Attlee making statements of that kind, I think of the picture of him reviewing Communist troops in Spain and

The Political Pot

One of Victoria's best-known citizens, inside and outside the city, will keep out of politics.

Victoria booster Rebel Mowat, jocular sightseeing bus driver who was considering contesting a city seat as an independent in the June 9 election, announced today he will not be a candidate. "I've decided it's better to keep my friends," explained Mr. Mowat. "If I entered the election race, I'd have to say things which would hurt people. I wouldn't like that."

A poll conducted by a Vancouver newspaper revealed that four out of 12 people didn't know the date of the provincial election.

Three of the eight who didn't know the exact date, didn't even know the month.

It's June 9.

The wife of Les Gilmour, Liberal Delta candidate, died Saturday in Vancouver.

William Moresby, young Victoria lawyer, has been named campaign manager for Shaanich Liberal candidate Arthur Ash.

Only Social Credit and LPP candidates failed to show up at an all-candidate meeting at Cobble Hill Monday.

It was sponsored by the South Cowichan Taxpayers' Association.

Health and Welfare Minister Eric Martin Monday night said they love Premier Bennett and Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi in the interior.

"The people in the Okanagan have the most amazing adoration for the man (Bennett)."

"That man Gagliardi is loved up there. He can't be defeated," said Mr. Martin.

At the same time, he told the Ontario Medical Association that other university scientists were rushing work on a vaccine which could give even more permanent protection against the crippling disease.

He said there is "every prospect" it will be ready before long for human trial.

BUENOS AIRES (UP)—A government order today prevented the three American press associations from distributing news from abroad to their client newspapers and radio stations in Argentina.

A post office department order issued Tuesday deprived the United Press, Associated Press and International News Service of radio facilities for receiving news from abroad.

The action was the most drastic yet taken in connection with President Juan D. Peron's campaign against the American news agencies. He opened the campaign in a May Day speech in which he charged that the American news agencies were engaged in "a campaign of defamation against Argentina."

Communists Dislike Allied Prisoner Plan

Threat to Entire Armistice Negotiations UN Delegates Told; Meet Again Tomorrow

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP)—The United Nations gave the Communists a detailed formula for ending the Korean truce deadlock today and, after hearing and reading it, the Communists said the proposal threatened to wreck negotiations.

LT-Gen. William K. Harrison, chief UN negotiator, handed the Washington-approved plan to North Korean Gen. Nam Il, the Communist chief delegate, at a meeting in the truce hut.

Gen. Mark W. Clark, supreme UN Far East commander, brought the plan, a counter-proposal to the eight-point Communist formula, to Harrison in dramatic flight Tuesday to the Allied base at Munsan.

"The Communists did not like it but suggested we meet again tomorrow," Harrison said after the one hour and 40-minute meeting.

The UN truce formula contained 10 articles and 26 paragraphs in addition to a preamble. The Communist plan contained only eight paragraphs.

Sonja Henie Held Blameless in Fall Of Bleachers

BALTIMORE (AP)—A jury Tuesday found Sonja Henie and her ice show corporation were not to blame when the stands came tumbling down just before she opened an appearance here in March of 1952.

The decision came after about five hours of deliberation on two weeks of testimony in a test case.

Between 250 and 300 spectators were hurt when the temporary bleachers fell. About 400 suits asking almost $6,000, 000 in damages are on file against the ice star and her associates.

Martin Mum on Money Until Election Past

"Let's get this election campaign over with and then I'll give you all you want of monetary reform," promised Health Minister Eric Martin, when he spoke to a Socred rally at Crystal Garden Tuesday night.

He wouldn't discuss monetary policies when questioned at the meeting. The Socred program, he said, could not be implemented on a provincial basis.

"So why bother about it in the provinces?" he asked.

"Monetary reform doesn't belong in this campaign and you know it," he told questioners. Then he made his promise to give the public all it wanted of reform with electioneering finished.

W. N. Chant, one of three Victoria Socred candidates who spoke at the meeting supported the minister's attitude. Many who called themselves Social Crediters did not understand the party monetary theory. But, then, he said, many people who drove cars didn't understand what made them go.

U.S. Generals See No Change In Red Threat

PARIS (UP)—U.S. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway and Alfred M. Gruenther agreed today that there has been no letup in the Russian threat to Europe, and said U.S. atomic weapons will be available in case of war.

Ridgway, retiring Allied supreme commander in Europe, and Gruenther, who has been chosen to take his place, expressed their views at a joint press conference at Allied headquarters near Paris.

The two four-star generals were asked their opinion of the latest Soviet "peace overtures."

"Gen. Gruenther and I see alike on this Soviet peace offensive, and as soldiers there is no information known to us to indicate a lessening of the (Russian) threat," Ridgway said.

Green Thinks Ottawa Should Own Airport

OTTAWA (CP)—Howard Green (PC, Vancouver Quadra) Tuesday night urged the government to take over Vancouver airport because, he said, it has a future in global aviation that will be too big for the city itself to handle.

Transport Minister Chevrier said he is willing to discuss the matter with Vancouver officials any time, but reiterated the government's view that the city should retain control. In either case, he said, it would make little difference to the Vancouver taxpayer.

The transport department would provide many of the facilities anyway and would not stint.

Mr. Chevrier agreed that Vancouver airport is, to the West Coast what Newfoundland's Gander airport is to the East, a spot right in the centre of global air routes.

He said the department has in mind a new terminal building to which the city might be asked to make a contribution.

For when Pte. Baker stepped from an RCAF hospital plane to complete a 10,000-mile flight from Freedom Village in Korea, an 88-year-old grandmother gave him an embrace that would put Marilyn Munroe to shame.

"And I hope I get what he's getting," the Van Doo said, pointing to Pte. Baker.

Finlayson Hits Handling of Douk Affairs

Political Capital, Charges Tory Leader

GRAND FORKS (BUP)—Provincial Progressive Conservative leader Deane Finlayson launched a new attack on the Social Credit government's treatment of the Doukhobor problem Tuesday night, saying the Tories "both magnify and distort" the picture and "can only contribute to further outbreaks in the area."

Speaking in the Grand Forks high school, which has been floodlighted and patrolled by armed guards at night for the past weeks in fear of a possible Doukhobor arson attempt against it, Finlayson declared: "The Social Crediters have been making inflammatory statements about the Doukhobor situation... about our few and martial law. In making this political capital they could incite the people of the area who have been victims of acts of terrorism into taking unfortunate action."

He said a solution to the Doukhobor problem could only be found through a continuing commission and re-location of the trouble-makers.

The radical Sons of Freedom should not be "mollycoddled," he said. "But neither are guns or soldiers needed," he added.

He said a Conservative government would restore land titles to law-abiding Doukhobors. The titles were lost some years ago when the Doukhobors defaulted on mortgages and the government took possession of the properties.

Finlayson concludes his current tour of the interior today with a speech at Castlegar.

Vancouver's Rival Labor Bodies Will Strive for Peace

VANCOUVER (CP)—Leaders of Vancouver's two rival labor councils will meet Thursday in an attempt to avert open warfare between AFL-TLC trade unions here and the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America.

Delegates to Vancouver Labor Council (CIO-CCL) Tuesday night decided to send VLC president Ewart Orr, vice-president Ed Sims and secretary Jim Bury.

The conference was requested by Vancouver Trades and Labor Council (AFL-TLC) after their members charged at a meeting last week that a Canadian Congress of Labor union was carrying out "a deliberate and unjustified raid" among 200 city hotel workers, members of a rival American Federation of Labor union.

11 Nurses Rescued From Quebec Blaze

QUEBEC CITY (BUP)—Firemen rescued 11 nurses from a residence near the Hotel Dieu Hospital Tuesday night when the fifth blaze to hit Quebec in as many days swept the first floor of the century-old building.

The four-story building, one of five occupied by nurses of the hospital which dates back to the 17th century, suffered heavy damage from water and smoke. It had been hit by fire only last November.

All 11 nurses were either resting or having supper on the top floor. Four of them had to be treated for inhaling and choking smoke. The cause of the fire was not known.

A series of fires swept establishments in a two block area of old Quebec and caused damage tentatively estimated at $500,000.

Heavy Wool Buying By Russia Noted On Aussie Market

SYDNEY (AP)—Sudden heavy buying of wool by Russian interests has been noted on the Australian wool market this week.

The wools Russia is buying are among the best quality merino of a type suitable for making utility type clothing and blankets rather than first-class wearing apparel.

Sustained Russian buying at premium prices has forced many other buyers to retire temporarily from the market. Bidding by Russian interests often reached one shilling a pound above them.

Trade sources are unable to give a reason for the unexpected Soviet entry into the market so late in the season.

Russia had bought no Australian wool for two seasons.

Wreckage, Oil Slick May Be Rocket Plane

TRENTON, Ont. (CP)—The RCAF reported today that wreckage and an oil slick were sighted in Lake Ontario near here and said it may be the wreckage of a secret United States rocket plane which crashed Tuesday night.

However, air force officials said the wreckage could not be identified because heavy fog set in as rescue craft approached the scene. They said the oil slick was spotted about 30 miles south of this town, 100 miles east of Toronto.

There was no sign of two U.S. airmen who parachuted from the bomber which was carrying the rocket plane. An explosion forced the crew of the mothering bomber to jettison the secret craft.

Two RCAF Dakotas circled the area for several minutes, saw no sign of life and dropped smoke markers before they returned to their base here.

Joseph McKenna, QC, defense counsel, said today the question of appeal was under consideration.

J. Ronald Grant was crown prosecutor at the trial.

Morgan did not take the stand on his own behalf and no defense witnesses were called.

After conviction, one character witness was heard.

In imposing sentence, the judge was asked to consider Morgan's record of 21 previous convictions, dating back to 1930. Most of the convictions were for vagrancy.

'DISGUSTING STATEMENT'

Attack on Milner Makes Howe Angry

OTTAWA (BUP)—Trade Minister C. D. Howe sharply defended Federal Transport Controller Roy Milner in the Commons Tuesday, and called a CCF member's criticism of Milner "a disgusting statement."

Howe directed his attack at Percy Wright (CCF-Melfort) who said in a Commons agriculture committee meeting last week that Milner's relationship with western grain growers was "like a weasel in with the chickens."

Howe took sharp exception to the statement and attended a meeting of the committee to clash with Wright. He rose again in the Commons to defend Milner.

"If any member of Parliament or man says that Mr. Milner is serving on the board of grain commissioners for what he can get out of it, it is a disgusting statement," Howe said.

Wright jumped to his feet and accused the trade minister of taking the statements made in committee out of context.

When Wright attacked Milner in the committee, Howe threatened legal action on grounds that the committee's proceedings were not privileged as are statements made in the Commons. At a later meeting of the committee, however, the trade minister withdrew the threat and conceded that the committee was privileged.

In the Commons, however, Howe invited Wright to make the same charge against Milner in public after Wright challenged Howe to take him to the Bar of the House or withdraw the threat.

Recalling the Record

DURING HIS ADDRESS IN Revelstoke this week Liberal leader Arthur Laing invited the voters to look back over his party's record on labor and social legislation.

It was an invitation that should provoke thought.

This province, under Liberal administrations and largely through Liberal influence in the coalition, has risen to an envied position in Canada both in the field of welfare and in a continuous program to increase harmony among the productive forces.

In hospital insurance alone, probably the most striking contribution of former Premier Byron Johnson to British Columbia, this province established a system which has become a pilot plan for states and provinces throughout the continent.

In social benefits to indigents and to the aged it has long held a leading position. In countless ways it has helped to give to the less fortunate some of the benefits of a province naturally rich and conscious of its responsibilities to all citizens.

In the field of labor legislation it invites comparison with that of any other province, confident that such comparisons will show British Columbia in a most favorable light.

Throughout its repeated and lengthy terms in office, the Liberal Party has kept pace in the evolutionary march of human relations, advancing on the sound footing of economic practicality and declining to set its sights on goals as yet too visionary for realization.

"All the good labor legislation" on B.C.'s statute books, said Mr. Laing, "is the product of Liberal administration." And that legislation has been good because it has taken into consideration not only the natural rights of the workers, but also the economic well-being of British Columbia.

Against that background Liberal candidates may confidently ask labor to examine the party's current platform. In its section on labor the policy has remained within the realm of practical application. It pledges the re-establishment of the Labor Relations Board on a full time basis. It supports amendment of the Workmen's Compensation Act along the lines recommended by Chief Justice Sloan following his inquiry, and it proposes the revision of the I.C. and A. Act at the next session of the legislature.

These are pledges that can be redeemed. They constitute persuasive argument to support Mr. Laing's invitation to labor to return in the coming election to its historic home in Liberalism.

An Accomplishment in Drama

WHEN THE LOCAL COMMITTEE accepted its responsibilities for the Dominion Drama Festival finals, its members realized fully the ambitious nature of the undertaking to which they were pledged.

Larger groups than usual came to this city for the contests, multiplying costs. Victoria, moreover, had an audience potential much less than many other centres where greater populations were within easy access of the theatre.

A multitude of details required exacting treatment to achieve the success hoped for in the event.

Two announcements tell the story of the finals. One is the opinion expressed by D. Park Jamieson, Ottawa, honorary vice-president, who called the week's performances "the best festival in the entire history of the Dominion Drama Festival." The other was the statement from Jack Barracough that financial responsibilities had been discharged in full, with a slight sum over for the dominion organization.

On the basis of those announcements and the evident pleasure expressed by patrons who attended the different plays, Victoria's staging of the finals—the biggest feature in Canadian drama—was eminently successful. The response of the public, coupled with the excellence of the productions, may be taken as supporting evidence for adjudicator Pierre Lefevre's pronouncement that there was no further reason to worry about the future of Canadian theatre. "After seeing the week's plays, it becomes obvious that this worry is quite unnecessary."

Greater Victoria's thanks are due to the local committee and the Community Drama office which worked tirelessly to assist in making the finals in this city an outstanding achievement. The standard of performance has been amply indicated in the criticisms of the news columns, and the manner in which audiences remained for the adjudications by Mr. Lefevre showed at once their appreciation for his expert services and their honest recognition of the talented performances they were given.

New People, New Wealth

"THESE PRESENT TO US A new and very important opportunity." With this phrase Governor-General Massey summed up the ideal approach to any policy of immigration for Canada. He sees the influx of new citizens as an opportunity, not an imposition; he recognizes the diversity of skills and talents brought by new settlers as necessary factors in the development of Canada, not threats to established employment or added burdens on the working population.

It was appropriate that His Excellency should have voiced his views before a joint meeting of the men's and women's Canadian Clubs here—organizations that in his words performed so much in "rekindling the flame of national feeling and pride when it was dangerously low."

As in any growing country, the question of an immigration policy has long provoked a variety of answers in Canada. Additions to our population have come rapidly at times, in other periods the flow of newcomers has almost ceased.

Obviously, a land covering half a continent but supporting less than 15 million people is an invitation to immigration. Too long neglected in a constantly expanding world it could become an invitation to aggression. It is a natural policy, therefore, that we should encourage worthy people from abroad who see in our land a chance to build a new and better life.

The argument that such newcomers will take jobs that should belong to native Canadians does not hold water in the light of experience. Every immigrant who comes to Canada brings needs with him—for food, clothing, shelter, and later for equipment and luxuries. The provision of these things, for which he is ready to pay with his labor, makes jobs for other Canadians, whether immigrant or native.

The country cannot stand still, nor can it await the long slow gains of natural accretion. The "diverse intellectual and social backgrounds" of these people, to which the Governor-General referred, can bring needed new qualities to the Canadian scene. Therein lies the "new and very important opportunity" recognized by Mr. Massey—the wealth of human material to be welcomed and integrated in this growing nation.

More 'Spielers' Needed

VICTORIA'S HOME PRODUCTS fair, with its record-breaking crowds, is history now and the basis for the promise of an "even bigger and better" one next year.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce which staged the event, the exhibitors who gave it backing and the public which showed appreciation, are all to be commended.

But while the experience of last week's fair is still fresh in mind, some profit may be extracted from noting one factor which a number of visitors found less than satisfying. Several booths were undermanned or not manned at all for periods of the show. The products on display were there to be seen but in many instances no one was present to explain their merits or their operations.

Exhibitors derive one benefit from such fairs. It is the interest their displays create among members of the public. That interest can be increased and visitors satisfied by explanations from someone familiar with the exhibit—someone who can answer questions and describe processes.

Perhaps in next year's "even bigger and better" edition that point will be taken to heart.

LOOSE ENDS

Pale Green Mosquitoes

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

PISA, Italy—The best way to see Europe is by automobile, provided one can live through it, which at the moment seems highly doubtful. I write this in the shadow of Pisa's leaning tower with the knowledge that it is in far better shape than I am after some 2,000 miles of European driving.

Conservatively speaking, I calculate that a day's drive along the Mediterranean coast uses up more energy than a week of labor in a British Columbia logging camp, and is far more dangerous. Tonight both the tower and I lean on the brink of collapse.

THE traffic of the coastal road is about equal to that of Fifth Avenue on a busy day, but Fifth Avenue is a wide street. In most places this road allows just room enough for two cars to pass and frequently it passes through villages of eight-foot alleys. On Fifth Avenue the traffic does not usually travel at more than 40 miles per hour. Here it moves at about 60, and without traffic signals. Fifth Avenue is a relatively short street. Extend it for some 500 miles of ceaseless congestion, imagine that you are driving for three days through the centre of New York and you will begin to grasp the pleasures of an automobile tour in southern Europe.

THE Europeans must be the best drivers in the world or they would all be dead by now. With them motoring is not a means of transportation. It is a blood sport like bull fighting, which it closely resembles.

The driver must constantly risk his life and endanger everybody else on the road or he is no sportsman. And this sport is conducted with such a roar of motors, such an artillery fire of motorcycles and such a perpetual scream of horns that the main street of any town human speech can be heard only in occasional broken snatches.

With his feet on the ground the Frenchman drives so exultantly as to make any Anglo-Saxon appear an oaf. With his foot on an accelerator the Frenchman becomes a barbarian, seldom takes his hand from the horn and tries to push every other driver off the side of the road.

THE Italians are even worse. In a general fashion any Italian who gets hold of a steering wheel or the handles of a motorbike just goes violently insane. These people's infatuation with the internal combustion engine is the greatest love affair since Romeo and Juliet, and by its recklessness and abandon seems likely to have the same tragic results.

It is hard to understand, when you read about Italy's poverty, how so many people have acquired automobiles or at least motorbikes. They make a curious motorcycle here, a sort of glorified child's scooter, for about $250 and there must be millions of them, swarming everywhere like pale green mosquitoes, more noisy, poisonous and even larger than the mosquitoes of the Red River.

As Our Readers See It

BELOW THE BIBLE BELT?

Many Anglicans, myself included, are feeling a little sad to read in Friday's issue of the Times, various statements made by an Anglican priest, at a public meeting, attacking the Scriptures for "co-opting, or adopting, God."

I have attended several SC meetings and, aside from the singing of one verse of the hymn "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," no mention was made of Christian ethics, the Bible, Christianity in general, or indeed of any religion. In short, there was no evidence of the "Bible beltism" to which the Rev. Hills refers.

With half the world gone communistic, and the setting up of the "Godless state," one would think that any political movement which claims to be Christian would receive commendation from a minister of the gospel. Perhaps Archbishop Sexton will give this local recital a little "fatherly" admonition, and get him back on the track.

The use of the phrase: "Co-opting God for political purposes," may sound well during an election, but there are those who say that the clerical calling, is "Co-opting God for financial purposes" when it preaches the Almighty Father, but grabs the Almighty Dollar.

As I see the SC movement, composed of members of all denominations, surely this is a cross-section of our population, joined together to try and give us something better than the discredited old-line parties which, as the Times has said on more than one occasion, lost the last election on a protest vote, against the dictatorship of government of the former Liberal premier, "Boss" Johnson. "By their fruits ye shall know them," and I do not think the voters have forgotten so soon.

WALTER HILEY.

Queenswood.
(Editor's Note: Mr. Hiley goes too far in his reference to the Times. This paper has alluded to the "protest vote" in the last election, but has never considered, and does not now consider, that the Johnson administration was in any way "dictatorial").

UNRESTED

Out of the mouths of the Victoria Liberals we hear that B.C. is living through a period of political unrest. And just who is responsible for this condition? None other than the Liberals themselves who, when they had 26 members in the House, and could have given something of good administration, their ego became so inflated and their former leader, Boss Johnson, precipitated Victorians into an unwarranted election.

They had their chance and failed and now they have the effrontery to tell us they can bring stability—such nonsense—we want no more of Liberalism.

Washington as Seen From Ottawa

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

AT the Vancouver Art Gallery all last month there was assembled, from various sources, an interesting show of French paintings of the 19th century, some of them rather wildly described as Impressionist and the rest more strictly Impressionist. (Let us not bother here to discuss who and what were the Impressionist school.) Well, a pal of mine decided it was her duty to take her eight-year-old son to glean what profit he could from a quick trot round the gallery. When told of the plan, he was wild with excitement, and began asking irrelevant questions about handkerchiefs, guillotines, iron bars, guards, bloodhounds, and heaven knows what. When he got to the gallery and found he was simply going to stare at paintings, he was frightfully let down. He had been promised (or so he swore) a visit to a French jail to see the Impressionists.

Brock

I HEARD of some other children who were taken to that exhibition. Such was the effect of Pissarro and Jongkind and the others upon these hysterical young minds, the kids disappeared into a lounge marked MEMBERS ONLY and hid under the sofas, where they screamed with laughter while wrecking several magazines filled with pictures of nudes. On being dragged out into the public rooms again, they were asked what they thought MEMBERS ONLY might mean. They said they had discussed that one in full, and had decided it meant TO REST YOUR LEGS. And if legs aren't members, what are?

EMPTY SADDLES IN THE OLE OFFICE
A FRIEND of mine had occasion to consult a merchant in an interior town. I'll not name the town, but everyone in that district imagines himself to be a cowboy, and acts and dresses accordingly. You would think you were in downtown Dallas or Houston. In a place of honor in the merchant's office was a costly and imposing saddle. My friend admired the saddle. The merchant said oh yes, that saddle had cost him a cool thousand bucks. Not to mention the time and cost of a trip to Oregon for the sole purpose of picking it up. My friend said he must have a wonderful horse to go under such a saddle. But the merchant said he hadn't ANY horse. He just liked that saddle, that's all. As indeed he must have. Yippee! Wahoo! Maybe he can't even afford the horse now he has the saddle.

FALLACY?
GOING back for a moment to the French In-prisonists, I have just had a horrible thought. The whole thing about Impressionism was that the painters worked completely in the open air, thus avoiding the false dead colors one gets in a studio, especially a studio with a north light (as all studios are supposed to have). Yes. Perfectly splendid, old boy. But where are the pictures hung? Why, indoors. Surely this kills some of their effect. Surely they should be hung in the garden where they belong?

I MUST surely have told you about the famous pianist who lived in Victoria one summer, and who rented a house with a grand piano he didn't like? He had the piano taken out into the garden . . . into the rain and dew, where it soon went to bits. When his landlady objected, he couldn't understand her complaint. "But it was no GUD!" he kept screaming at her reasonably. How much more charming it would be to move the rented paintings out into the foggy dew because they WERE good!

THANKS FOR THE MEMORY

I WAS reading somewhere or other that modern children at school are not taught to concentrate, and are not encouraged to train their memories. With dire results in later life. I was asking a Grade VI child about it, and the following dialogue took place:
Q.—Do they make you do any memorizing in school?

A.—I forget.
Q.—Well, did they ever ask you to memorize a bit of poetry, for example?
A.—Oh, yes, I think they did, once.
Q.—What was it about?
A.—Sort of hard to explain.
Q.—What?
A.—I forget. But it's in one of my textbooks.
Q.—Where are they?
A.—I forget.

EVERY MODERN CONVENIENCE

AS you can tell by reading the advertisements yourself, you can now buy ready-made cracker crumbs. So help me. Many rich housewives, of course, are able to crush their own cracker crumbs at home, by means of a machine called the Crackmaster, or possibly its rival, the Crumbmaster. But for the poor, it has long been a fearful ordeal, smashing down the old crackers into dust. I know several women who have worn their fingers to the bone and back again, crumbing crackers. It has driven them mad, too, and hence the expression "going crackers."

I WISH people would invent more conveniences like that. Life is too short for me to go round wasting my energy with trivial tasks or exhausting ones like breaking down crackers, buttering bread, and making tea. In my modern bakery the bread is not only ready-sliced but ready-buttered. And not with butter, either, but with Slimo, a non-fatty fat made out of modeling clay and crankcase oil in equal parts, and stained a healthy yellow as if the machines which make it had been grazing on the lush grasses of New Zealand.

And in my Kitchen of the Future (O boy!) I'll have cartoons filled with ready-lit cigarettes, ready-canned hot coffee, and pre-burped indigestion. Not to mention ready-dreamt nightmares, thought up for you by somebody else. Always thinking of the other fellow . . . that, my friends, is the key to our civilization of tomorrow. And may I soon slide gracefully off to one side, thus out-skating the innovators.

Too True Fish Story

Tacoma Sunday News

In the window of a food store Friday there was a tray of salmon steaks marked 85 cents a pound. In the news the same day was the information that Libby, McNeill & Libby, the big food packing concern, had increased earnings in 1952, compared to 1951, despite a loss on its extensive salmon operations.

Granted that fresh salmon and canned salmon are almost two species of fish, they do have a common high-price factor, and it was undoubtedly the high price of canned salmon, running into stiff customer resistance, that put the canning firm's salmon pack in the red. Other salmon packers are having their troubles, with the Pacific American Fisheries of Bellingham being forced to miss a recent dividend.

With beef prices tumbling, salmon has priced itself out of the market, and this seems doubly strange in a west coast seaport such as Tacoma where it used to be axiomatic that if meat got too high, we could at least eat salmon.

Salmon is now strictly a luxury item, and that fact is not because of shortages. Those engaged in catching, canning and selling this delectable item of food are demanding so much that few of us are able to include salmon on the family menu.

It will be interesting to see what new demands, if any, are made when the new salmon season starts. In the meantime, did you ever try ling cod? Not bad at all.

LEW LEHR used to say "Monkeys are the craziest people," but I doubt it. Monkeys never try to be sane. People are crazier because they keep pretending to have all their marbles and nobody really has.

The average person is quite ready to admit that an acquaintance is nutty as a fruitcake. Only a few bother to look inward and admit the pickles have got them, too. It's so easy to see the squirrel in the other guy.

Roland Wild helps to prove the case in a recent article in Saturday Night. He discusses "Columnists in Clover," the men and women who live on the fat of the land by writing columns for West Coast newspapers.

"The ultimate (he doesn't say what 'ultimate' is reached when the columnist not only writes about another columnist, but edifies the public with what another columnist has to say about himself." Then Mr. Wild writes a column about columnists writing about columnists. That, I guess, is the unqualified ultimate. But what's the odds? He was paid for his work.

A LITTLE RANCID

There isn't any reason why Wild shouldn't write about columnists in B.C. There must be times when he has to scrape the barrel, too. The unfortunate part about the piece is that Mr. Wild is wrapping up in the Toronto publication that slightly rancid type of writing that influences people in a way to make Toronto wonder why the rest of Canada doesn't love Toronto.

The B.C. columnists, the article in Saturday Night implies, don't bother circulating in the busy arenas where news is made. "They are unique in their profession—stay-at-home diarists, whose mixture is strictly home brew. . . . They hold up a mirror not to life, but to themselves."

It sounds smart, if you read it quickly. But it could mean that some writers on the West Coast aren't too concerned with the daily rat-race. They don't swipe news from the news columns. They look in the mirror and give the reactions of the individual they know best.

In a black-homberg-Yonge-Street way, the columnist who writes about columnists writing about columnists sniffs at the fare of West Coast columnists. He doesn't appear to see why anyone should be interested in the family affairs of writers or the domestic establishments in which they live. He seems to dismiss the idea that people like to read about people. He seems a bit incredulous that one columnist should be unable to pass a sunset without describing it. You gather from the article that writers out here just don't know how to write a column as he would have it—which is a very nice tribute to the West Coast.

My favorite writer turns out several hundred words every year or two on the equinox, pointing to the massive labor of the world making its change in the seasons. The way he handles it, you like it.

DOING NICELY

But what the Toronto Saturday Night man glosses over lightly is the fact that a lot of these people whose work he criticizes are doing very nicely, thank you. They're turning out the copy the people want to read and several of them are syndicated.

Maybe Mr. Wild has his points, but he might dig a little deeper to see what the constituents seek in this part of the country and elsewhere. Maybe he ought to examine the philosophy of living which has been termed "gracious" out here. Just possibly the subscribers wouldn't care for the style he favors.

Mr. Wild's column on columnists on the West Coast isn't offensively snide. Nor is it snide. It's just Toronto—which is one of the things Canadians have learned to put up with. It deserves sympathy.

FROM WASHINGTON

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

THE United States administration's new defense policy is not going over very well. The claim that less defense will make us stronger has aroused a certain interest in the new General Motors Miracle Model—will it be a longer car with a shorter wheel base, a narrower car with more room for the family, a car with half the horsepower and twice the speed and pick-up? But there is sure to be a bitter row before Congress consents to such steps as tossing the 142 Group-Air Force program into the wastebasket.

None the less, congressional critics ought to begin by acknowledging the real difficulties of the task inherited by Secretary of Defense Wilson and Under-Secretary Kyes.

There were worse things wrong with the Truman defense program than superfluity and extravagance. Messrs. Wilson and Kyes should be generous enough to admit that some waste is a usual feature of any great and rapid rearmament effort. But they may justly complain that we have been buying a Second World War defense program in a revolutionized world situation.

The Soviet atomic bomb has existed since September, 1949. The explosion of the Soviet atomic bomb in Siberia and the aggression in Korea were the two stimuli that produced American rearmament. Yet it is fair to say that the Joint Chiefs of Staff have never adjusted their planning to the new and central fact of the world strategic situation—the rapid accumulation of a defective Soviet stock pile of atomic weapons.

The ground forces have spent untold millions to develop an atomic cannon that could hardly cross any existing bridge in the world, and an atomic shell that expends fissionable material as though it were cheaper than TNT. But ground force plans offer no answer to the vulnerability to air-atomic attack of the West European ports, on which the whole NATO supply system depends.

The navy has spent billions on carrier task forces, with the primary aim of sharing the air force's mission of atomic attack on the enemy. But the navy has no known answer to the vulnerability of these carrier task forces to underwater atomic explosions, which was theoretically demonstrated in dramatic fashion during Exercise Main Base.

The Air Force 142-Group plan makes atomic "retaliatory striking power" the central element in our world strategy. But this plan hardly takes into account the growing vulnerability of this continent to Soviet air-atomic attack, although the American continental power base is the most important weight in the whole world power balance. And this plan has also failed to build up our own air-atomic striking power in step with improvement of the Soviet air defensive.

These failures were tacitly admitted in the last major National Security Council policy paper of the Truman regime. This was, in effect, a disillusioned re-examination of the effects of the Soviet atomic bomb and other new weapons on the American world position. It called for greater effort to fill the widening gaps in U.S. defenses, and especially to fill the air defense gap.

On these grounds, then, the angriest complaints were justified, both of President Truman's defense leadership and of the workings of the Joint Chiefs' planning system. No such complaints have been heard, however. And this is upsetting, since the reason seems to be that the emphasis on the gaps in American defenses would undermine the present policy as well as display the failures of the past.

If the gaps in our defenses are really to be filled later on, the country had better be told about its actual situation clearly and frankly and promptly. And since the lead time of disaster is a great deal less than the lead time for new airplanes and novel air warning nets, the new work had better be started before very long.

ISLAND DIGEST

GANGES—A capacity crowd of Canadian Legion and ladies' auxiliary members attended the recent opening of the new hall built by Branch 92.

It was declared open by Gavin C. Mout, one of the original members of the Legion, who recalled the merging of the Great War Veterans' Association with the Legion, through the efforts of Frank Speed, F. Crofton, Lieut.-Col. MacGregor Macintosh, V. C. Best, P. Lowther, Chester Martin, W. Y. Stewart, George Stewart, H. Noon, Harry Loosmore, Eric Springfield, F. C. Turner and J. Bond.

DUNCAN—Annual meeting of Cowichan Curling Co-operative Association is expected early in July, when a $4,000 surplus will be distributed to shareholders.

On Tuesday shareholders authorized installation of a concrete floor for $5,000, to be financed by shares to be offered first to present owners. Use of the building for public events outside the curling season is planned.

DUNCAN—City council has decided to purchase, at a saving of about $28 each, parking meters discarded by Port Alberni. A number of business firms here have applied for parking meter extension to meet expanding parking problem.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE—Liberals and Conservatives are "brazenly promising" to give good legislation they failed to enact while in power. Frank Mitchell, Esquimalt CCF candidate, said Tuesday night at Shawnigan Lake Agricultural Association Hall.

"Last year they turned down progressive legislation advocated by the CCF and still campaigned on their record," he said.

COURTENAY—More than 1,600 schoolchildren of all ages in 44 choirs combined to make this year's Courtenay-Campbell River musical festival the most outstanding in years, said festival officials.

Adjudicator Sherwood Robson of Vancouver found standards "amazingly high."

"If I were allowed to mark the concert the total point score would be about 87 per cent," he said.

COURTENAY—New officers of International Woodworkers of America, Local 1463, are Jacob Epp, president; Gordon McEntee, first vice-president; Edwin Lidberg, second vice-president; Martin Holt, third vice-president; Jacob Holst, financial secretary; Joe Dillen, recording secretary; Felix McCabe, conductor; L. Smith, warden, and Phillip Musgrave, three-year trustee.

Sea Cadets' Inspection Set Sunday

Annual inspection of the Victoria Junior Sea Cadet Corps has been set for 3 p.m. Sunday at "Rainbow" Barracks.

Taking the salute in a 100-boy march past will be Mayor Claude Harrison.

Victoria branch of the navy league which sponsors the group here, has invited the public to attend.

The cadets, under command of Lieut. Gerald Bishop will demonstrate several phases of their training, including boat-work and parade drill.

Public relations officer, Gordon Schenck recently reported an urgent need for additional instructors and a camp for the junior cadets. Senior cadets have a summer camp at Comox.

Junior cadets will hold an annual carnival at the division headquarters June 13, proceeds going to cadet activities.

Paratrooper Dies In Stabbing Affair

SHILO, Man. (CP)—A 29-year-old paratrooper was stabbed to death Tuesday by a hunting knife during a violent washroom quarrel which allegedly followed an argument over a missing wallet.

Dead is L.-Cpl. A. W. N. Smith of Toronto.

RCMP said they are holding Pte. R. J. Finn, 24, formerly of Ireland and recently of Camp Petawawa, Ont.

About 10 men were said to have been in the washroom when the quarrel started.

After a violent argument, Smith was stabbed in the lower left abdomen. The knife allegedly used was not army issue.

Both men were members of the 2nd Battalion Royal Canadian Regiment and had been taking paratroop training at Rivers, Man. They were stationed temporarily at Shilo taking training on the jump tower here.

Smith was taken to the camp hospital but died 20 minutes after admission.

The army ordered a court of inquiry into the stabbing. An RCMP investigation was also under way.

END WAGE DISPUTE

WINNIPEG (CP)—C. W. Speirs, head of the Greater Winnipeg Milk Distributors, announced Tuesday that a union proposal to end a wages and hours dispute with five dairies has been accepted.

Meanwhile, Roy McPhail, chairman of the milk control board of Manitoba, said a hearing on the companies' request for a 25-cent-per-hundredweight cut in price paid to producers will be held May 22. At present, producers are getting $4.25 per hundredweight.

The contract with the union calls for: Incorporation of $1.75

Duguid Sentenced To 8-Year Jail

TORONTO (CP)—Harry Duguid, 38-year-old bank robber and jail-breaker, was sentenced Tuesday to eight years in prison for the $14,500 armed hold-up of a Toronto bank 10 years ago.

Duguid, a former Toronto plastics manufacturer who ended up on the RCMP's list of 10 most-wanted men, made no comment before sentence was pronounced.

He was brought back from Vancouver April 27 where he was picked up for breaking and entering.

Police said the eight-year sentence will be added to a two-year sentence given Duguid earlier this year for breaking and entering a Vancouver theatre.

SHORT-HANDED RCMP DUCK JOB

Doukhabor uprisings in the West Kootenay area, necessitating extra policing, have caused a manpower shortage in the RCMP, a spokesman said Tuesday.

The RCMP has advised Cumberland city council it cannot take over policing of the up-island city because of lack of personnel.

Thirty extra policemen were sent to the Doukhabor country some time ago, and there seems little chance they will be called back in the near future.

By BOB THOMAS

Andrea Doesn't Miss It

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Patrons at an exclusive gift shop here generally take a second glance at the beautiful brunette who has waited on them. They seem to think they have seen her before.

Probably they have. She is Andrea Leeds, one of Hollywood's finest young dramatic actresses in the late 1930's. Now the wife of automotive and horse racing heir Bob Howard, she disappeared from films a dozen years ago.

She is one of the rare film stars who retired from the screen voluntarily.

Film stars often "retire," but usually the retirement is caused by involuntary forces: ill health or—more often—an apathetic audience. Miss Leeds' case was different. She quit when she was in demand as an actress.

Another was Jane Bryan, who gave up a promising film career to wed Justin Dart, a drug store magnate.

Neither Miss Leeds nor Miss Bryan has succumbed to blandishments to return to the cameras and grease paint. Both have stuck to their careers as wives and mothers.

Asked if she ever missed movie life, Miss Leeds replied:

"Hardly at all. The only time I think about being an actress is when I see a movie that has a good part in it. I think to myself, 'How I would have liked to play that role!'"

The one-time actress still receives film offers. She won an academy nomination for "Stage Door" in 1937; bowed out of pictures in 1940. Her last film was "Earthbound" with Warner Baxter.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

Now that that refreshing breath of fresh air has gone back to her books (surely, you saw Tuesday's sport pages, neighbors) and Boyd's face is leering where for only too briefly it was a pleasant relief to look on Tuesday, perhaps we'd better get back to work ourselves.

Yes, it was Hi-Times day here at The Times Tuesday and the staff is only now beginning to settle down again.

Take Ron Coulter, for example, our bowling expert. Ron usually takes 15 minutes for coffee. Tuesday, you couldn't find him for 30 minutes or more. Besides, he came in this morning complaining about a crick in his neck. And Boyd. He went out to play softball. While chasing a fly ball, he met a teammate face to face and, as a result missed the opportunity of sharing Ann Sprinkling's company. Anyone want to buy a slightly used glove?

But what was it we were going to say?

Oh, yes, Ann says he sure and not forget the annual high school track and field championships at Vic High Stadium next Wednesday. There's something about a track meet that gets one, especially a school meet. That fresh sense of competition that is reflected from the athletes to their cheering schoolmates.

But it's a heavy week on the old sports calendar if you're so inclined.

Caps Have Been Reading Too Much

Starting Thursday there's the baseball series between the Capilanos and the Tyees. Who was it that said that "man for man the Caps were a better team than the Tyees last year." A Vancouver scribe who suffered from too much California sun, perhaps. But then that's their local angle. The Tyees don't need one. At least they didn't until they hit the Caps this week.

And Friday through Monday the B.C. Amateur golf championship holds sway at the Royal Colwood Club. Victoria could take this one, too, if Bob Fleming stays hot. But don't overlook Bob Morrison, Bill McColl, Jim Robertson or that grizzled war horse, Vic Painter.

Saturday, we've got a real live world championship in our own back yard. Dan McShane, champion of all the world and the Americas, meets gentleman Dave Jones, the virtuous heart of the game. To qualify one needs only 205 pounds, or less, of bone and muscle. McShane is also defending his title elsewhere Friday night, but we've got it on good authority that "he'll win," so as not to disappoint Victoria fans.

Nanaimo Should Be Boiling, Too

A double feature in lacrosse tonight and Friday, the car racing season opening Saturday at Shearings, an added attraction of the same nature Monday. And for travelers there's the expected fireworks at Nanaimo as the Native Sons attempt to settle a few differences of boxia tonalms and possibly fistic opinion with the Irish.

Toss in a couple of high school track meets Friday, add a dash of club golf at all courses Sunday, top the crab louie with the appearance of the pro tennis troupe here a week from tonight, and a sports gourmet's stomach will probably bech under the strain.

Stay-at-homes aren't left out of the menu either, for by video and radio will come the world's heavyweight battle for the championship of all mankind between old Jersey Joe of the double shuffle and Rocky the ripper, who'll have to catch Joe before he can lower the boom.

Boyd! Better you go out with the Little Leaguers, Sunday, because we know that the rumor is unfounded that your nose was out of joint because you couldn't be here Tuesday. (PS. It's really broken, folks).

Rocky Expects to Stop Joe in Eight Rounds

HOLLAND, Mich. (UP)—Expecting a knockout victory about the eighth round, champion Rocky Marciano broke camp here today and headed for Chicago and the big fight.

He and his handlers were happy that he had finished the longest training grind in heavyweight history without any late injury before his return encounter with Jersey Joe Walcott at Chicago Stadium Friday night.

Not even a trickle of blood came from his nose during the final two rounds of sparring with Willie Wilson yesterday. It was a nose hemorrhage that had caused postponement of the title fight from April 10 to Friday.

He has boxed a record of 225 rounds since he began training on Jan. 6. And he did roadwork even during the two weeks vacation caused by the postponement. He jogged four miles on the road here this morning.

"I'm confident of winning," he told reporters. "And I expect the win to come midway in the fight."

He added that even if the bout surprisingly lasted its full 15 rounds, he was ready to go the distance and win on a decision.

In their previous class of Sept. 23, 1952, Walcott had been ahead on points when he was knocked out in the 13th round. But even if this bout goes 12 rounds, Rocky said, "I'll be ahead this time because I've learned a lot and I don't believe he can show me anything new he didn't use last time."

The champ was genuinely bitter against Felix Bocchicchio, Jersey Joe's manager, who had been quoted as saying Rocky looked "punchy" last week as a result of blows received in the September fight. "That was a lousy thing for him to say,"

Puck Profanity Curb

By W. R. WHEATLEY
NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP)—The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association wants something done to hobble teams that ice the puck when short handed and to silence players who protest with lurid profanity when they are tossed into the penalty box.

At its opening general meeting Tuesday, the association accepted proposals on these points for rule changes, but turned thumbs down on several others.

Men Behind the Soccer Scene

While local soccer fans breathlessly await the appearance here June 2 of the touring Irish International All-Star side, the momentous task of arranging the game is being done by the five men shown above. Left to right, Pat Mulcahy, Charlie Lewis, Don Gray, Jim Reside and Sam Smith, have the task of arranging the countless details that have to be cleared up before the Irish side meets a city all-star squad. (Times photo.)

Storey Finds 'Rabbit' As Tyees Bow to Caps

All this talk about rabbits being second cousins to baseballs this year has apparently reached the ears of the Vancouver Capilanos.

The veteran ex-coast leaguer personally ruined the Victoria Tyees' bid to regain second place at Cap Stadium Tuesday night as he drove in four runs in the 6-1 Cap victory.

All the big third basemen did was to single, triple and hit a home run. The single came in the first inning to load the bases, Gordon Hernandez following with a single to score the first Cap run. Centre-fielder Bob Montz spiked any further scoring by nailing a Cap runner at the plate.

Storey tripled in the second to drive across two runs and clouted his homer in the fourth with one aboard. In each instance, Dick Briskley reached base ahead of his manager, scoring three runs.

GULLEY HOMERS
Napoleon Gulley, making his first start in recent games as manager Cec Garriotti took a rest, hit a line drive home run in the ninth for the Tyees' only tally.

Tyees loaded the bases in the ninth following Gulley's blow, but shortstop Jim Clark and Garriotti, in a pinch-hitting role, both struck out to end the threat.

Bud Guldberg hurled a six-hitter in registering his first victory and handcuffed the Tyees from the first inning. When Lu Brannan reached third following a lead-off double, until the ninth.

The clubs complete their series at Vancouver tonight, returning here for the remainder of the week, starting Thursday night.

GRAND-SLAM HOMERS
At Calgary, grand-slam homers by rightfielder Charlie Mead and second baseman Dan Hunter powered Stampede to a 15-3 victory over Wenatchee Chiefs, who also contributed a round-tripper.

Lewiston added two more in bowing 7-4 at Salem. At Edmonton, Whitey Thompson's eight-inning four-master gave Eskimos a 5-4 margin over Yakima.

At Spokane the Indians hopped on three Tri-City pitchers for 14 hits on their way to a 15-2 rout.

BIG CROWD
The games at Edmonton and Calgary were the first of the season in the Prairie cities. A crowd of 5,000, biggest WIL turnout this year, was in the stands at Edmonton, and 2,600 fans welcomed the Stampede to Calgary.

International Trap-Shoot Sunday

North Saanich Rod and Gun Club's registered Pacific International trap shoot will be held on the club grounds, Beacon Avenue, starting Sunday morning at 10.

Four events: Open 50 target at 16 yards; handicap 25 target; 12 pairs of doubles at 16 yards; and a five-man team shoot, 25 targets at 16 yards.

Women's and other events will be added if time permits and anyone interested is asked to attend.

become an active official in the game itself.

Another proposed rule change, accepted, was aimed at stricter penalties for boarding. "It incorporated the words 'in contact with the boards' to deal with players who are cross-checked, body-checked, charged or tripped.

Players who deliberately shoot at goal keepers after play has been stopped were given a slap. Under a suggestion by the British Columbia branch, the offending player would be given a misconduct penalty.

Pils Behind 'Em, Rocks Host Tribe

Intercity Boxla Lead In Balance

Shamrocks, 11, Pilseners 9

Victoria Shamrocks, having won "the crosshairs" Tuesday night in Vancouver, are at home to the pesky PNE Indians at Memorial Arena.

Following Tuesday's all-important 11-9 victory over Vancouver Pilseners, Red McMillan's Rocks can move into first place in the Intercity Lacrosse League tonight by taking the tribe to camp. They can consolidate that position against the same Pilseners Friday night in what will be one of the most important weeks of the season for the Irish.

They meet Nanaimo Native Sons in Nanaimo Monday night to finish off a hectic period of activity. The ultimate would be a clean sweep.

COME FROM BEHIND

Tuesday's victory over Johnny Cavallin's powerhouse Pils, rated the team to beat for the league title, was a big one for the Rocks and they won it with a strong rally in the second half.

Pils took a 4-3 edge in the first quarter but the Rocks came back to salvage a 5-5 saw-off at the half. The Rocks out-scored Vancouver 4-2 in the third quarter for a 9-7 lead and both clubs scored twice in the last quarter.

Bulky Jim Hetherington, back between the pipes, played a large part in the Irish victory, holding the potent Pils to five goals over the last three quarters after being beaten four times in the opening half.

Archie Browning, with three goals and one assist, lead the Rock scoring parade, while line-mate Whitey Severson had two goals and one assist.

Sarge Sammartino scored what turned out to be the winning goal and Arry Ferguson converted on a double relay from Sammartino and Bill Bamford to add insurance.

Clary Jenion's Indians will be weakened tonight by the absence of rugged Mario Crema.

The big Indian forward, who scored three goals last week, was injured in the previous game, their only defeat of the season, will be out of action for six weeks as a result of a broken jaw suffered at Nanaimo Saturday night.

UGH-STAN HERE!!

However, Stan Joseph will be along and he usually spells trouble for the Irish. It was the superb second-half goaltending of the Indian veteran that turned the tide in the Redskins' favor last week.

A point of interest will be the zone defense, a tactical manoeuvre employed by Indians in their recent victory over the Rocks. The tight defense, which slowed game down to a walk, worked fine on the small floor at Kersidale Arena, but whether it will be as effective on the much larger Memorial Arena surface remains to be seen. "Game time is 8:30."

League president Al Leader will head a delegation to Montreal June 10-11 to attend the professional hockey leagues' meeting. Others elected to represent the league are Lester Patrick, Victoria; Muzz Patrick, Tacoma; Frank Dotten, Seattle, and Ken McKenzie, New Westminster.

While in Montreal, the committee will also meet with officials of the new Quebec league regarding a possible play-off series.

Denny Eversen, Regina, who was to talk over the possibilities of that city joining the WHL, was late in arriving and will attend the concluding meeting today.

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UP)—Hollywood Park officials sat back today and waited for horsemen or the state government to make the next move toward solution of a purse dispute that threatens to close the track's entire 50-day race meeting.

The track handed its ultimatum to horse owners and trainers Tuesday with the announcement that its entry box will remain closed until Friday and that if Saturday's races are not filled at that time the track "will be compelled to close down the entire plant."

A state horse racing board meeting was called promptly for 11 a.m. Thursday in Los Angeles to consider the matter. The board chairman was conferring in Sacramento today with the governor.

Sailors More Alert, Take Softball Lead

Navy took over first place in the Senior A Men's Softball League Tuesday night at Central Park by outlasting Capital City Gasmen (nee Pitzer and Nex) 5-2 in a loosely-played game.

The bluejackets now are two points up on Chinese Students. The gasmen remain in third place.

Although only four physical errors were charged in the game, two to each team, several men lapses figured in the scoring, the gasmen being the worst offenders.

Navy scored four runs in the top of the second inning on two hits. Tony Bishop walked after Roy Irwin had skied out for the first out. He went to third on two wild pitches by starting hurler Joe Bryant of the losers, and Ken Pollock walked.

Mel Padgett singled sharply through the slot into right field to drive in Bishop, and every-body moved up a base after leftfielder Toad Garnett dropped a pop fly by Jeff Worrall.

Doug Boettcher forced Padgett at third. Pollock scoring on the play. After George Kinch dropped a single behind short that caught everybody napping, Bryant removed himself from the game and brought in Dixie Harper.

Harper got Mickey Smith on a pop-up to end the rally and, from the third to the sixth inning, Navy were completely handcuffed.

Jack Allen of Navy led off in the sixth with a walk, advanced to second on an infield out, and reached third on a single by Pollock.

Ford Adds Tribe to Great Record

Whitey Ford, a cocky New York Yankee lefthander, and Bob Buhl, a Milwaukee rookie making his first major league start, have joined the growing list of young pitchers who are out to prove that today's baseball isn't as lively as some folks claim.

Last month home runs were flying in all directions at such distances that traveling secretaries with the ball clubs were carrying tape measures as standard equipment.

But in the last week it's been a different story. A week ago Bobo Holloman of St. Louis Browns tossed a no-hitter. Sunday Don Liddle of Milwaukee broke in as a starter with a two-hitter. And Bob Porterfield of Washington threw a one-hitter.

Tuesday night Ford baffled Cleveland Indians on one hit—a slow rolling grounder that never got as far as third base. Buhl, another Braves' first-year man, mastered New York Giants on two hits.

Ford won his game 7-0, giving the Yankees a comfortable two-game bulge on top of the American League over the second-place Indians. Buhl lost his shutout in the ninth, but still triumphed easily 8-1.

The Yankee victory was a masterpiece by Ford, who refused to sign his contract this spring until he got paid what he thought a Yankee was worth. Whitey, back in the big leagues after a two-year army hitch, has a phenomenal record—12 major league starts and 12 major league victories. The only time he has been beaten was in relief against Philadelphia in 1950.

"I've never pitched a one-hitter before," he said after Tuesday night's game.

"That was my best one. As long as the hit had to come I'm glad it came that early. I don't know if I would have been able to stand the tension."

Early Wynn, who was opposing Ford on the mound, just got his bat on a 3-and-2 pitch in the sixth inning and dribbled it between the mound and third base. Ford charged in along with third baseman

Gil McDougald. When he saw Ford couldn't make it, McDougald made a stab for the ball but couldn't find the handle.

The official scorer called it a hit on the theory that Wynn would have beaten any throw McDougald could have made, even if he came up with the ball.

Buhl, working in 40-degree temperature with a brisk wind, gave up a breeze-blown Texas league single to Don Mueller in the fourth inning and a double to Bobby Thompson at the start of the ninth.

Philadelphia Phillies took over the lead in the National League by edging St. Louis Cardinals 6-5, after Brooklyn had lost the only daylight contest 6-4 to Chicago Cubs on Dee Fondy's 11th-inning home run.

Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were rained out at Cincinnati after 2½ innings with the Pirates leading 5-1.

Holloman, making his first appearance since tossing his no-hitter, gave up two runs and lasted less than two innings at Philadelphia before he retired with a blistered finger on his pitching hand.

Don Larsen took over for the Browns and they went on to whip the Athletics 7-3. Washington won its fifth in a row 10-1 over Detroit and Chicago won an uphill battle at Boston 9-7 in 10 innings.

National Track Plan Revealed

By JACK SULLIVAN

TORONTO (CP)—An ambitious track and field plan to encourage and promote the sport in all provinces from Newfoundland to British Columbia was created Tuesday. It could herald a return to the lush days of the 1920's and '30's, when the country's athletes competed on even terms with the world's best.

The scheme, called the "Canadian Olympic Training Plan," was launched at a press luncheon by Canadian National Exhibition, provincial civic and national amateur sports leaders. It received the blessing of the Canadian Olympic Association, British Empire Games committee and the Amateur Athletic Union.

ANNUAL MEETS

The plan, proposed a year ago by CNE-president J. A. Northey, entails annual provincial championships and a Dominion meet. The first Canada-wide meet will be held September 5 on the regulation quarter-mile track here with athletes from every province represented.

Future Dominion meets will be held on the same track. Officials announced an initial contribution of $20,000 has been received from anonymous "angels" to start operations at once. This money will be used to bring competitors and coaches from the provinces here to receive coaching from a leading British or American coach one week prior to the initial meet next September.

George Duthie, manager of the CNE sports department, will start a country-wide tour May 21 to help organize provincial championships. He will confer with AAU and provincial education and health department officials and possibly representatives of service clubs.

Duthie's first stop will be Vancouver, May 22. It is not definitely known whether the September Dominion meet will be recognized by the AAU, track and field's sports governing body, as the official Canadian championships of 1953. A mailed vote of provincial AAU officials is necessary for such sanction and it is likely this will be given.

In recent years Canadian track championship, conducted by the AAU have been of a "provincial" nature. Only three or four provinces have been represented, mainly because athletes could not afford the transportation and lodgings and the AAU could not give them financial assistance.

It is possible that the trials for the 1954 British Empire Games may be held here with the support of this newly announced program. The meet probably would be held next spring, a few months before the games open at Vancouver.

Matthews in Draw

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Favored Harry Matthews, 181½, Seattle, had to fight from behind to get a 10-round draw with Freddie Beshore, 196½, Los Angeles, here Tuesday night.

It was a split decision, referee Ralph Gruman voting 60-50 for Matthews; judge Freddie Steele, 56½-53½ for Beshore; and judge Bobby Richards calling it even.

City Rally Cheers Socred Pledge Doukhobors to Feel Weight of Law

Cheers greeted Health and Welfare Minister Eric Martin's declaration of government policy when he warned Tuesday night that Doukhobors who broke the laws of the land would pay the law's penalty.

"The days of pussyfooting are past," he told an audience of 270 in the Crystal Garden lower ballroom. "This government means business so far as the Freedom of Information Act is concerned."

Of the extremist Doukhobor sect he added: "The difficulty is to catch them. But the day is coming when we're going to catch them. We've got salt on their tails."

Attorney-General Robert Bonner was the man to deal with the group against whom is charged the campaign of fire and civil disobedience in B.C.'s interior, said Mr. Martin. The attorney-general is "a very firm, determined young lad... very close to being a genius," his cabinet colleague said.

"There is one law and only one law for everybody," Mr. Martin developed the Doukhobor policy theme. "If there are Doukhobors breaking that law they must suffer the consequences."

It was then his audience cheered. Mr. Martin brushed aside the allegations of Liberal leader Arthur Laing that there were only four men in B.C.'s Socred cabinet and that Premier Bennett, Mr. Bonner, Finance Minister Elmer Genderson and Education Minister Mrs. Tilly Roston would rid themselves of less accomplished colleagues.

"Pay no attention to such rumors," he advised.

He paid compliments right and left. "We Socreds thank God for W. A. C. Bennett," he said. Works Minister Philip Gagliardi was "literally adored" in his Kamloops constituency.

Of Alan Reid, the Salmo Arm Socred who brought down a storm of protest and abuse when he charged in the legislature that sex was being taught in B.C. schools, Mr. Martin said: "There is a hero in that constituency and his name is Alan Reid. It's none of my business what he said. He can say what he pleases. Something new in politics, isn't it?" he asked.

He boasted the B.C. hospital insurance scheme was just about the most successful of the continent and he denied the Hills who had accused Social Credit of "Bible beltism" anything to fear. When it was "co-opting God for political purposes."

"He is denouncing the very principles he should be preaching in his parish every day," she said.

Mr. Chant supported Mr. Martin's views on monetary reform.

Long-standing wage negotiations between Memorial Arena commission and International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 918, went before a conciliation board at 2 p.m. today.

Original demands of the union were for a 25-cent hourly wage increase, three weeks' paid holiday after five years of service and nine statutory holidays.

Board chairman is Robert T. Brindle, former city fire chief. Hugh Botterill, Victoria solicitor, is the commission's nominee on the board, and H. Berger, Vancouver, represents the union.

E. E. Pearlman, Victoria solicitor, appeared as counsel for the commission.

Saanich Rezoning Policy May Be Set Next Tuesday

Saanich Council will decide next Tuesday whether it will rezone farm property at the corner of Haliburton and Wesley Roads to allow construction of a small country store.

The proposed site for the store is the subject of controversy between residents in the district.

C. S. Hyland, applicant, is seeking to have his property rezoned to commercial so that he can build a small store next to his house. The majority of residents, as well as all corner property owners are in favor of the store.

TWO for the SHOW

By PHIL LEE

AA (Oscar Class) BB (Worthwhile)
A (Don't Miss) B (For Rainy Days)
C (To put in time)

(BB) "SALOME" (Capitol): It is nothing new for Hollywood to take a great book by a great author and rewrite it to suit its own peculiar tastes.

It is not unusual for Hollywood to rewrite history.

But surely it is poor taste for even Hollywood to attempt to rewrite—or interpret, if you will—a portion of the Bible.

The story of Princess Salome and John the Baptist—to my knowledge—is mentioned in but two places in the Bible (Matt. xiv and Mark vi), and, in both instances, it is Salome who, after pleasing Herod with her dancing, asks for John's head to be delivered to her. Each time it is upon the instructions of her mother, Herodias.

According to Columbia studios' version, however, Salome is betrayed by her mother. Salome does her famed dance of the seven veils to woo Herod's pleasure so that she can persuade him to release John. According to Columbia, Salome was a secret follower of the Baptist.

The irony of it all, however, even after interpreting Biblical history Hollywood fell down badly on its own job—producing a good movie.

A good movie has to be in character. That is to say, if it's a funny picture it must be funny. If it is to be an historical film then it must make you feel as if you are living with history. Even more so, by its very nature, if it is a Biblical story then it must have tone, sincerity, depth and a genuine feeling of Godliness, to wit, "King of Kings" and "Ben Hur."

Columbia's "Salome" has none of this. It is a cross between a gaudy Arabian Nights fable and a glossy vacuum of color.

The saving graces are few. Fortunately, however, they are good and point up what might have been done under proper perspective and direction.

The graces are namely these: Charles Laughton as Herod, truly a fine actor who played the frightened, scheming, lost king of Galilee the way only Laughton could play it; Stewart Granger as the proud Roman captain Claudius, humble follower of John; and Alan Badel, as John the Baptist.

One significant scene of note was when Claudius sees John out in prison to tell him that he has witnessed the miracles of the Carpenter of Nazareth. This is a beautiful and touching scene that can hold its own with any ever portrayed on the stage or screen.

As for Rita Hayworth... she had better stick to modern pieces. In that field she can stand on her own two feet. As "Salome" she is sadly miscast and appears utterly lost throughout.

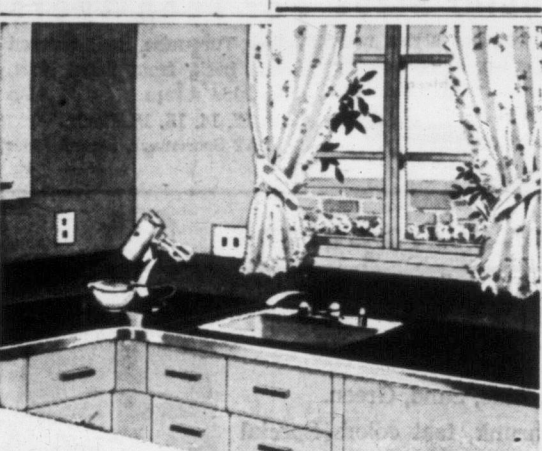

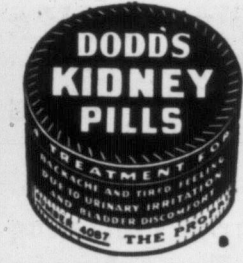

Good actor Sir Cedric Hardwicke is seen little as Tiberius Caesar. Basil Sydney seemed to have a grasp of his part as Pontius Pilate. Maurice Schwartz is excellent as high priest Ezra. Judith Anderson, however, as Salome's wicked mother Herodias over-played her role by the proverbial country mile. In recapitulation: "Salome" simply wasn't worth the time or the money, which, quite obviously, was considerable.

Freight Rates Action Sought By Opposition

West, Maritimes Hit
Hardest, MPs Claim

OTTAWA (CP).—Progressive Conservative and CCF members of the Commons made new demands on the government Tuesday for lower freight rates.

Taking a final fling at the contentious subject before prorogation, they urged a better break in rates, particularly for the West and the four Atlantic provinces.

In a debate on Transport Minister Chevrier's annual estimates, members claimed these areas were hardest hit by rate increases. They offered a variety of suggestions.

The freight-rate debate, and a rambling discussion on other aspects of transportation, came as the Commons was driving for the last prorogation of this parliament. The end of the session did not appear in prospect before late Wednesday or possibly Thursday.

DELICATE PROBLEM

In reply to members calling for government action on freight rates, Mr. Chevrier said he agrees they constitute a "very delicate problem," particularly for the Maritimes and the West.

But he added that the government has been putting into operation the 1951 recommendations of the royal commission on transportation, many of which would prove to be of great benefit when the Board of Transport Commissioners had completed the rate-equalization plan it now has in hand.

MIGHT REDUCE RATES

It might very well be, he said, that equalization would have the effect of reducing rates for the eastern and western parts of the country.

If it were found that rate equalization did not meet the situation, the minister said, he was sure the government would take a new look and see if some other remedy could be found.

In response to a proposal from Hazen Argue (CCF, Assiniboia) that federal subsidies be used to hold down freight tolls in the West and the Maritimes, Mr. Chevrier noted that the government had put into effect a $7,000,000-a-year subsidy on traffic east and west across northern Ontario. This was in line with a royal commission recommendation.

Nanaimo Logger Nominated As LPP Contestant Here

Irving Mortenson, a Nanaimo logger, was nominated to contest one of the three Victoria seats for the Labor-Progressive Party at a meeting Tuesday night.

Mr. Mortenson is a long-time LPP member, and a native of British Columbia.

The other LPP candidates, nominated some time ago, are Mrs. Barney Blakey and Archibald McGugan.

B.C.'s Social Credit government was accused of "exporting several hundred jobs for B.C. workers" by agreeing to divert crude oil from the Trans-Mountain oil pipeline to the United States.

Labor-Progressive Party Leader Nigel Morgan told the meeting:

"In exporting that crude oil to be refined at Ferndale, Washington, instead of in Burnaby, we are exporting several hundred jobs."

Mr. Morgan read from Hansard of March 13 a letter written by Attorney-General Robert Bonner to the Bechtel Corporation, contractors for the pipeline and the Ferndale refinery.

The LPP leader said Mr. Bonner asserted in the letter the B.C. government considered it unnecessary to be represented at hearings regarding a spur pipeline through Sumas to the U.S.

Mr. Morgan contended more and more products of B.C. hydroelectric plants, mines and pulp mills are being shipped to the U.S. for remanufacture, and in

PRECEDENT CREATED

Drew Appointed PC

OTTAWA (CP).—George Drew has been made a member of the Queen's Privy Council of Canada, first leader of the Opposition to become an adviser to the monarch while in that office.

Prime Minister St. Laurent announced in the Commons Tuesday night that Mr. Drew and three other members of the official Canadian Coronation delegation have been named as privy councillors because of the prominent part they play in the delegation's activities.

The others are Rt. Hon. Thibault Rinfret, chief justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, Ross Macdonald, Speaker of the Commons, and Senator Elie Beaugrand, Speaker of the Senate. Chief Justice Rinfret, already in England, is a member of the Imperial Privy Council.

The appointments are largely honorary but entitle the holders to use the term honorable for life. The privy council, a relic of bygone days, rarely sits.

It consists of all present members of the cabinet, which technically is considered a committee of the council but which actually long ago usurped all its powers. Other members include former cabinet ministers and persons such as Earl Alexander, former governor-general, to whom the government feels the honor would bestow the nation's thanks for signal service.

Queen's Champions Vie for Favor

Like bees around honey were the swains of S. J. Willis Junior High School today around Victoria May Queen Doreen Rogers. The 14-year-old grade nine student held court to celebrate first day of her reign. Admiring commoners are, left to right, Jock Gray, Garrie McNaughton and Keith Galbraith. Classes ended tender scene.

BREATHLESS BEAUTY

Schoolgirl To Reign as Queen of May

Six beautiful and breathless school girls watched Greater Victoria School Board chairman Richard Reeve select a ticket from a glass bowl at Odeon Theatre Tuesday night which named the Queen of the May. Doreen Rogers of S. J. Willis High School won the crown.

Mr. Reeve and the Lions Club, sponsors of the queen contest, approved the method of selection because, they said, there was nothing to choose between the seven contestants.

But the seventh queen nominee, Mount View High's Helen Hardy, was not qualified. Her school's representative wore the crown last year and the rule of succession precludes the second term for any school's queen. Helen became a lady-in-waiting.

Other ladies-in-waiting are Margo Thompson, Victoria High; Beverly Turner, Esquimalt High; and Ina Ransom, Mount Douglas High.

Still uncrowned, Queen Doreen nevertheless possesses a royal dignity. She sat through flash-bulb explosions and reporters' questions, not quite relaxed, but smiling benignly. A bigger smile went to her best boy friend who met her in the theatre lobby later.

Doreen had one year of school in Edmonton, has been a Victorian eight years. Her mother was there to beam on her success, but father's an engineer up-coast, won't know of Doreen's triumph for two days. Her sister, Bernice, is here too. The Rogers live at 236 Gorge Road East.

LIONS IN CHARGE
The queen's selection was in charge of Lions committeemen Milt Sharp and president Art Quill. President of the Lions' Ladies, Mrs. G. Hinch, is chaperone to the court.

The girls each are chosen by the students' councils at the district high schools. All are either in grade nine or 10. All had to have high academic standing in order to qualify. The affair was approved by senior school inspector, J. F. K. English.

Lions will also plan the Coronation ceremony slated for May 30 on the Parliament Building steps.

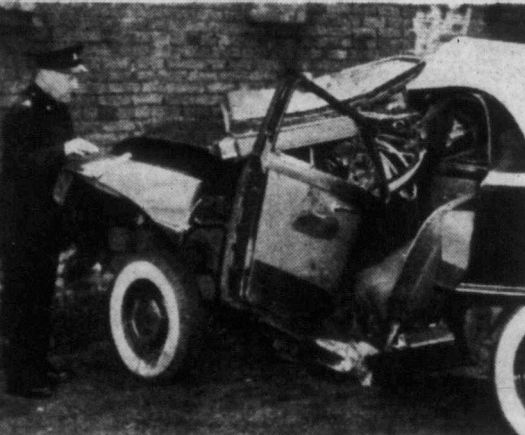

The little queen will take no official part in the big parade, honoring the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth on June 2, however.

Two Victoria Vets Returning From Korea
Two local men and four other Vancouver Islanders are among more than 1,000 Canadian soldiers who will arrive in Seattle Friday aboard a U.S. Navy troopship, the army announced today.

The local men, who will arrive aboard the CPR night steamer from Vancouver Saturday, are Capt. A. L. D. Macdonell, 870 Admirals Road, and Bombardier H. Cook, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, 2011 Cook Street, Victoria.

Other Islanders are: Private D. W. K. Anderson, RCASC, Ganges Harbor, Salt Spring Island; Lance Bombardier R. J. Millan, RCHA, RR 1, Alberni; Gunner W. J. Whitehead, RCHA, RR 1, Qualicum Bay; Corporal M. J. Rail, Cowichan Lake.

The army says there are 51 British Columbians in the total draft. They will arrive in Vancouver Friday afternoon after being moved from Seattle in special buses.

First Traffic Death in City

Victim of May 8 Car Wreck, Joseph K. Coffyn Succumbs

The death of a 29-year-old man in Royal Jubilee Hospital Tuesday from injuries suffered in a May 8 car accident marked Victoria's first traffic fatality for 1953. Dead is Joseph K. Coffyn, of 255 Meade Street, Colwood.

A coroner's inquest under Dr. E. C. Hart will be held at Sands Funeral Chapel at 10:30 a.m. Friday.

Mr. Coffyn received internal injuries, a compound leg fracture, lacerations and severe shock. He was trapped for an hour in the wrecked car behind the steering wheel.

The accident occurred on Gorge Road early in the morning. The car Mr. Coffyn was driving collided with a viaduct, skidded sideways and crashed into a public utility pole, city police said.

Three other occupants in the car were injured in the accident.

They were: Mrs. Magdalena Coffyn, 28, wife of the dead man; John Lutton, 25, and Shirley Lutton, 24, both of 274 Meade Street.

Mrs. Coffyn and Miss Lutton are still in hospital recovering from injuries suffered in the accident.

Mrs. Coffyn's condition is the most serious, hospital authorities said. She received pelvic injuries. But her condition is reported as "fairly good."

STILL NO RAIN IN SIGHT HERE

Gardeners will be well advised to continue sprinkling their vegetables, the weatherman advised today.

"Although there is a change of air mass coming up, and rain fell today on the west coast, we are not forecasting rain for Victoria," he said.

Tonight will be cloudy and Thursday will be cloudy with sunny periods. Winds will be westerly at 20 miles on Thursday, and temperatures will range between 48 and 60 degrees.

The outlook for Friday and Saturday is "fair," he said, according to the present movement of the storm centre west of here today.

$100,000 in Mail For Governments' Defense Shares

Cheques totaling $100,000 have been sent to 48 B.C. municipalities by the provincial government to help pay for civil defense costs.

Provincial Secretary Wesley Black said today the $100,000 represents the provincial and federal government shares of the "civil defense matching funds program."

Greater Victoria municipalities will get $11,452 out of the fund, Ladysmith $500, Nanaimo $675, Port Alberni $3,000 and North Cowichan $571.

George Forbes, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Forbes, Lac la Poudre, is at present working with a forestry survey crew at Vernon. He plans to go on to UBC, majoring in languages and history.

"He works very hard and we are very pleased," said his sister Elizabeth when she heard the news.

Margaret Little, who ranked second in her first year, is 18, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Little, 1535 Yorke Place.

OH, WONDERFUL

"Oh, wonderful," was her first remark at the results. Miss Little, who will be employed as an elevator operator at Empress Hotel for the summer, plans to continue at Victoria College and then UBC. Her goal is a high school teaching post in mathematics and social studies.

She has never written for a scholarship so found the news "all the more surprising." Supplemental examinations will be written between Aug. 20 and 26. Persons who on account of illness were granted deferred examinations, will write at the same time.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Why is a B.C. election ballot marked in ink spoiled?—R.G. A.—The legislation governing provincial elections specifically requires that ballots be marked with a lead pencil.

Q.—Where was Agriculture Minister Gardner born and raised and where did he farm?—Mrs. M.W.

A.—Hon. J. G. Gardner was born and raised on a farm in the parents' homestead at Farquhar, Ont. He hired out as a farm boy at the age of 12, completing his education later by graduating from the University of Manitoba. He entered politics in 1914 and resumed farming in Saskatchewan, in 1916. He still maintains his farm.

BETWEEN TIME'S

By MONTE ROBERTS

I hate to admit this, but I have become a little worried about the PFP (Punch for Premier) Party.

Some people seem to regard the drive of the dog Punch toward the Premiership of British Columbia as a joke. Last night I decided to have a man-to-dog talk with Punch on the subject.

"Mr. Candidate," I began, "I am afraid some of the people think you are fooling about your campaign."

The Candidate yawned and stretched and said, so long as you are fooling some of the people, what more do you expect? Even an expert politician like I cannot fool all of the people, the Candidate said.

"What I mean," I explained, "is you haven't used all the methods of advertising and publicity to seek votes." You have just used Between Times to tell your story, and people think Between Times is funny.

So now you are flattering yourself, the Candidate said. So if all the people who think Between Times is funny vote for me, I wouldn't be elected dog-catcher—you should excuse the expression.

"Mr. Candidate," I tried again, "What I mean is, you won't even get up on the hustings and speak."

The Candidate interrupted with a low growl. I should speak, he said. I don't have to speak for my supper, do I? the Candidate said. A dog demeans himself when he speaks for what he wants. If I don't have to speak for my supper, why should I speak for the Premiership?

"But Mr. Candidate," I explained, "you will have to do something to explain your views to the voters. Perhaps," I said, "you should buy some billboards."

Now look here, said the Candidate, what would I do with billboards? Hide behind them? I have always operated in the open, the Candidate said, and I do not propose to hide behind billboards.

"Well, then," I said, "would you consider using direct mail?"

I am the most direct male I know, said the Candidate, with no modesty, but a great deal of truth.

"You misunderstand me," I said, "I mean, you should distribute election dodgers on every doorstep."

The Candidate interrupted again. I am a very good dodger, he said, but you know very well what you have told me about people's doorsteps. Would you have me disobe-dent, he asked.

"Now look," I remonstrated, "you can't just sit there and do nothing. You have to advertise. Why, EVERY candidate at least puts his sign on telephone poles."

I wish to state, said the Candidate, coldly, I have been putting my sign on telephone poles ever since I was old enough to stand on my own legs.

What other candidate can make that statement?

Come to think of it, I don't know why I worry about Punch.

The candidate will win paws down, without putting on the dog about it.

James R. Ballendine, Work Point Barracks, was fined $30 in city police court today for violating a restricted driver's license.

Vernon Reid, no fixed address, charged with advising Lois Browne to commit forgery, was remanded by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today until May 21 for preliminary inquiry.

The accused is represented by lawyer Ronald Grant. Lois Browne, who pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery last Saturday, will be sentenced by the magistrate Thursday.

A United States Navy submarine and a reserve training ship will arrive at Victoria during the coming holiday week-end.

Scabbardfish, a Balao class submarine, is scheduled to arrive at HMC Dockyard at 4 p.m. Monday, and will remain here for a week. Patrol Craft 1254 will dock at 7 p.m. Saturday for an overnight visit.

Mayor Claude Harrison has no intention of running the brag-up campaign for a seat in the Legislature that he conducted for the mayoralty in 1951.

He said today he does not expect to have time for any public meetings. The mayor is running in Victoria as an independent.

Saanich Staff Aims to Avoid Strike Action

Seeking Further Negotiations

Saanich Municipal Employees' Association, which voted 129-22 last week in favor of strike action against the municipality, Tuesday night authorized its bargaining committee to arrange two more negotiation meetings with the municipal council.

Members agreed that no strike action would be considered until after the second meeting.

They specified, though, that no more than two meetings be held, and that they take place within the next two weeks.

Employees considering strike action are members of municipal inside and outside staffs who rejected a conciliation board recommendation refusing a general wage increase.

Both council and union have agreed to a meeting May 19. The 10-man executive board of the union, named as a strike committee with power to act, was instructed to give its decisions and actions as wide publicity as possible.

UNUSUAL PROCEDURE
If a strike results from the failure of the proposed "last ditch" negotiations, it will be the first strike of Canadian municipal employees within the memory of veteran trade unionists here.

Only other comparable dispute was in Hamilton, Ont., about 18 months ago, and concerned garbage workers only.

The conciliation board recommended wage boosts for only five classifications of municipal workers and was against a general increase. The council accepted the recommendation on one classification, and offered a compromise on the other four.

Mayor Advocates Referendum Before $150,000 Payment
A vote of the electorate before $150,000 in city funds is turned over to Victoria Nursing Home Society for construction of a new 104-bed addition on Gorge Road is advocated today by Mayor Claude Harrison.

The mayor said the society is a private organization, not operated by the city and feels the money realized from land sales should not be applied to the new nursing home without the consent of the electorate.

The city legal office is at present awaiting a ruling from the municipal affairs department on whether a vote of the people is necessary.

The once-lovely sloping boulevard on the Belleville Street waterfront will be a "gray field" shortly if not given some attention.

R. R. Ker, prominent city businessman, wrote the mayor and council today.

The boulevard, directly in front of the Parliament Buildings, was maintained by the city for years at no cost to the provincial government.

Recently the city decided to turn the job over to the government and rejected an offer to continue maintenance at $400 a year.

Dr. R. M. Petrie, director of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Saanichton, will be principal speaker at the opening of the new James Richard Jewett Observatory, Washington State College, Pullman, on May 14. He will speak on "Discovering the Galaxy."

Richard Jewett was for many years professor of ancient languages at Harvard University.

A guest audience of National Film Board employees and women contestants from a morning radio show saw a preview of "The Stars Are Singing" at the Capitol Theatre today.

They told theatre manager J. Robertson afterward that no picture was ever more appropriately named.

MONDAY NEGOTIATIONS MAY DECIDE IF SEA STRIKE TO ISOLATE ISLAND

A meeting between union officials and employers in Vancouver Monday morning may decide whether Victoria is to lose again all connections by sea with the Canadian mainland—as it did in August, 1950.

For 10 days of that month, the only direct connection between Vancouver Island and the rest of B.C. was by air, for passengers, and by barge, for freight.

Monday's meeting was scheduled following an affirmative strike vote by 700 members of the Seafarers' International Union (AFI), designed to enforce demands for a $50 a month increase in the deck and engine room departments of the CPR's B.C. Coast Service, Canadian National Steamships and Union Steamships.

If operators and union fail to reach agreement, a union mass meeting will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, to set a "deadline" after which all Vancouver Island-B.C. Mainland shipping will be tied up, if demands aren't met.

A strike against the three companies would leave Victoria with only two connections with the U.S. mainland—Black Ball Ferry service to Port Angeles and the Washington State Ferries' Sidney-Anacortes run.

Later this summer, Black Ball will operate a Nanaimo-Horseshoe Bay service, but the rebuilt ship now being prepared for the job is not expected to be ready before June 15.

Thus, if the strike materializes, the situation would parallel that of August, 1950, when the Island was isolated, first by the nation-wide rail strike, then by a second, though short-lived, strike of seamen.

At 6 a.m., Aug. 21, 1950, island-mainland shipping "dropped anchor" in concert with the strike called by the Brotherhood of Railway Employees, representing CNR and CPR workers.

Union Steamship Co. vessels continued to operate out of Vancouver to mainland points, but on Aug. 25 the SIU employees of Union walked off their jobs—completing the paralysis of all coastwise shipping with the exception of Black Ball Ferry Line.

The federal government intervened in the rail strike, and trains moved again on Aug. 31. However, SIU pickets replaced Railway Brotherhood picketers at the CPR docks here—for SIU had voted to strike on its own.

The union asked $30 a month increase, union security, and a reduction in the 46-hour week. Shipping companies offered four cents an hour increase, a 46-hour week to be implemented in 12 months, and arbitration on union security.

On Sept. 2, the union accepted the company's offer—and coastwise ships steamed out to work.

Court Asked to Interpret Langford Store Sale Pact

A dispute arising out of the sale of Langford Lake store came before Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane in B.C. Supreme Court here today.

Mrs. Alice May Dobson, and her daughter, Miss Lillian Grace Overton, are seeking judgment for $3,132 which they claim is owing them by William H. Okell under an agreement of sale made in October, 1952.

The agreement provided for the purchase of Langford Lake Store for $14,800.

Dispute before the court concerns interpretation of a single sentence in the contract. The sentence said that when the store was turned over to the new owner it was to contain "equipment as presently installed and stock to be guaranteed at wholesale $4,000."

The plaintiffs contention is that the $4,000 related to the value of equipment and stock together. The defendant's position is that the $4,000 was meant to apply to the stock only, and that he did not receive that amount.

The case is continuing.

Counsel Defends Pipeline Company Against B.C. Lien

A provincial mechanics' lien cannot be applied to a work or undertaking which transcends provincial boundaries, D. N. Hosie, QC, argued in the B.C. Court of Appeal today.

Mr. Hosie is acting for Trans Mountain Oil Pipe Line Company, against whose assets Campbell-Bennett Ltd., a B.C. general contracting firm, is seeking to obtain liens.

Mr. Hosie submitted today that a declaration could be made that pipelines should be protected from liens since they were for the general benefit and advantage of all Canada. He relied mostly, however, on past cases involving railway, telegraph and telephone companies.

This is the third day of trial. Under direct review is a decision of County Court Judge Ross Archibald of Kamloops, who ruled that Trans Mountain's pipeline could not be subject to liens.

C. W. Tysoe, QC, acting for Campbell-Bennett, concluded his main argument against this decision in court Tuesday.

Mr. Armstrong, who was 64, apparently suffered a heart attack when a fire he lit to burn rubbish threatened to break out of control.

His unconscious form was found near the fire by two small children picking flowers in the area. They were Caroline Ashmore, six, and Heather McDonald, three and a half, who live nearby.

Caroline ran to her mother, Mrs. J. Ashmore, 764 Jasmine, who summoned police. Mr. Armstrong was pronounced dead on arrival at hospital.

He is survived by his wife, and three daughters, Mrs. William Palmer, of Victoria, and Mrs. E. J. Brannick and Mrs. Albert Forester, both in Marsden, Saskatchewan.

Suddenly Stricken, David Armstrong Funeral on Friday
Funeral services will be held Friday for David Burn Armstrong, 1109 Kings Road, who died suddenly Tuesday afternoon while clearing property on Jasmine Avenue in Saanich.

CIVIL DEFENSE ALERT

The general public, by means of publicity through local press and radio, will be expected to co-operate—to take cover, bring motor traffic to a standstill.

Police will be authorized to enforce compliance and in all respects the "alert" will be made as realistic as possible.

The "all clear" will be sounded about 15 minutes after sounding of the "red alert."

Method of sounding the "red alert" and "all clear" will be fully publicized before the exercise so citizens will be familiar with the system."

Here is a list of "pointers":

On Street—Take cover in nearest building. Walk quickly but do not run. Police and wardens will assist in clearing the streets.

In Homes, Apartments and Offices—Go to basement or ground floor, close windows, lower blinds and keep away from windows.

Furnaces—If practical, electrical and gas appliances should be turned off and the main power switches thrown.

Stores—If space has been set aside for shelters, staff and shoppers should be directed to them. Otherwise, they should go to the safest place on each floor away from windows.

Trains and bus services—for this exercise it will be impractical to interfere with train movements, but it is suggested that buses can conform to procedures laid down for motor traffic generally, that is pull to curb, close vehicle windows, passengers lie on floor or take cover in nearest building.

Telephones—between "red alert" and "all clear" the public should not use the telephone system except in cases of real emergency.

Officials explained that as the alert is for practice and training purposes, it may be that for technical and other reasons, it will not be either practical or desirable to interfere seriously with the normal operations of certain public facilities such as hospitals and industrial plants.

In such cases, the management concerned will be requested to participate to the maximum extent possible.

Here's a New Something That Should Attract

By PENNY SAVER

No! Don't get mad at the men folk in your home for butting their cigarettes in their saucers! It's a hopeless case, you might as well realize that. Unless, of course, you get a set of attachable ash trays. They clip right on to the saucer, giving them (the men, that is) no excuse whatsoever to mess up your china. Saves space, too, for there's no need to set out table-cluttering ash trays. Set of four trays in a convenient, individual size, attractive colors, $1.00.

You don't have to coax your kiddies to drink their milk and orange juice when you buy an action-drinking toy! They love to watch the liquid flow up and around fascinating cowboy, clown and elephant characters, through the transparent plastic straw. Sanitary, unbreakable and fun to use, these toys make an ideal gift. Clean easily, too! Just hold under an open faucet until water flows through clear. Price tag is 39 cents... and extra mouthpieces are available by sending 10 cents in coin to an address given on the box.

You'll have no tired fingers from holding a cloth if you get one of the new silk mits for dusting, polishing and waxing. Leaves no lint, gets into corners, easy on the hands, cannot slip off. . . . Whew! Sounds wonderful, doesn't it? Take a deep breath, here we go again! Swell for auto bodies, glass, venetian blinds, as a double wash cloth, for silver, shoe shines, and applying and polishing wax. Golly! Mustn't forget the price! Just 29 cents.

For your bridge parties there are plastic party picks with tips in shapes of clubs, hearts, diamonds and spades. Perfect for olives, hors d'oeuvres or pickles. . . . Just 19 cents for a box of 60 picks in bright colors.

Something else for dressing up the tea table is a box of decorated sugar cubes. Dainty flowers are iced on the cubes in pink, mauve, yellow and peach, with tiny green leaves. 75 cents.

Cover the worn spots on the youngsters' blue jeans with these denim iron-on patches. 25 cents a pair.

Plastic "scuffies" for travelling are now available in kiddies' sizes. Protect their precious footies from the chilly floors of the train or ship. . . . 59 cents.

Her Engagement Broken, Girl Should Return Ring

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

When an engagement is broken it is customary for the girl to return her engagement ring and all other gifts of value. The mother who wrote the following letter is concerned about the difficulties which may arise because her daughter does not want to return her ring. She says:

(Q) "I have a problem I cannot solve for myself so I am writing you for advice. My daughter has been engaged for the past two years and her fiancé is coming back from overseas next month. He broke their engagement two months ago and wants his diamond ring back. My daughter does not want to give it to him. She says he broke the engagement and she does not have to give it to him. I'm afraid to have trouble with him and I can't afford to pay a lawyer. What can I do?"

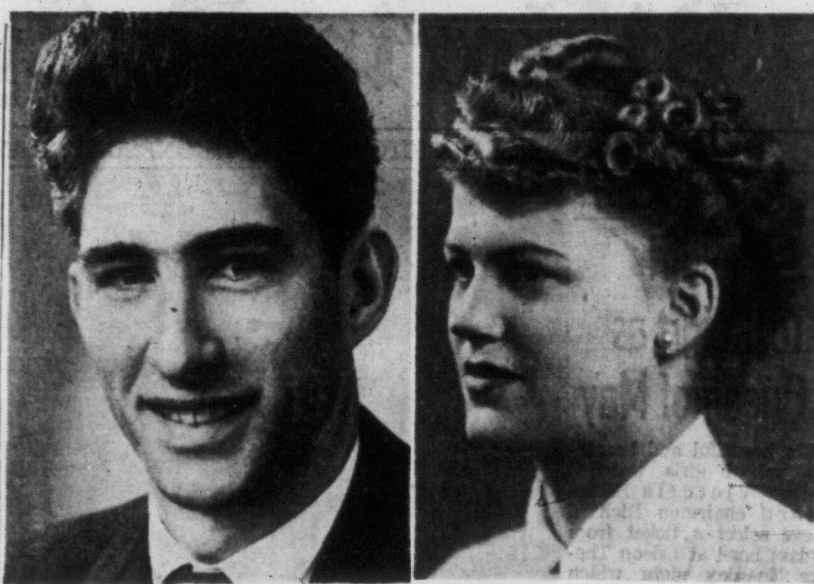

(A) Insist that your daughter return the ring as soon as the man gets home. This she can do either by sending it to him by registered mail with a request for a return card to prove that he has received it, or she can invite him to your home so she can give it to him personally.

I strongly recommend the first method. Seeing her former fiancé again under such unfavorable conditions is bound to be upsetting for your daughter. Since the young man seems to lack social graces she may get into an argument with him about who should keep the ring and, as you fear, this could lead to trouble.

Impress upon your daughter that she is well rid of this young man. Insist that she have no further words with him about the ring.

If she does, you may not only have lawyer's fees to pay but your daughter may pay very heavily if this young man spreads unfavorable stories around about her wanting to keep the ring. This could readily jeopardize her chances to marry a worthy man in the future.

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help you. Write in care of this newspaper.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Choose Your Brassiere Carefully; Be Sure It Fits

The question of the type brassiere you wear, and especially the way it is fitted to you, is of extreme importance.

There are three types; the bandeau, the brassiere and the long-line brassiere. If you are a junior or have a small bust you will like the bandeau. This has no band beneath the cups or only a very narrow one. The brassiere has a band of from one to three inches below the cups and gives more support. The long-line bra extends to the waistline. This gives a smooth line and controls the diaphragm.

The woman who crowds a large bust into a small cup does herself an injustice. This does not create an attractive effect, it is not comfortable, and it breaks down the tissues, leading to sagging. On the other hand, the woman who buys a brassiere which has a cup size which is too big, defeats one of the main purposes of a brassiere, which is support.

Most stores have lines which run in size from 30 to 54. Cups run in sizes from AA to D. Sometimes brassieres are graded also as "narrow, medium and wide." This has to do with the separation of the cups. This is a factor which women too often forget. The bust should not be pushed together but supported in place.

Straps help hold the bra up and also aid in supporting the bust. Straps which are forked at the top of the bra are best. The strapless bra has become very popular. Once these were used for evening gowns only but now they are made for every occasion.

Ordinarily a woman buys the same size in a strapless brassiere she uses in one with straps. The main thing is to be sure that it fits well in the cups. The back can be adjusted. Sometimes the woman who wears an A cup in a regular bra will require padding in the strapless garment because some styles have only B and C sizes.

Remember, too, that there is an art in putting on a bra. You should slip the straps over the shoulders and then lean forward from the waist. While in this position fasten the bra.

If you would like to have my exercises for developing the bust send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

DAY OR NIGHT

There's a Technique in Using Lipstick Properly

By AMY BANDREVIK

Have you tried the Yardley "Twin Test" yet? You don't have to be twins to do it either. All you do is put lipstick on your own lips and inspect the effect in day and night light. Day light is cold and brings out the blue of your lipstick while night light is warmer and brings out the red tones. Many women feel that they need darker make-up at night, but you will find that lighter and brighter shades are more flattering in that light.

The application of lipstick is a very important part in your beauty routine. For best results paint the upper and lower lips, following the natural outlines of your mouth well into the corners and inside the lower lip. Blot and repaint for lasting finish.

Miss Ardelle Saunders, beauty representative of Yardley of London, currently demonstrating the correct use of cosmetics at Eaton's, says, "Lipstick and rouge are chosen to go with the color of the costume you wear and must complement your own coloring. Eye make-up should not be obvious. It should just add depth and brilliance to the eyes. Eye shadow is chosen according to color of your eyes; mascara according to the color of your eyelashes." Teen-agers should use soft shades of lipstick to complement youthful complexions.

Are freckles your problem? Miss Saunders is the girl to see about them. She has a few herself—so she certainly knows how to help you make yours into assets and not liabilities. As beauty representative Miss Saunders travels across Canada with two companions, Miss Evelyn Ellis, also a beauty representative, who will be at the "Bay" this week-end, and Mr. Frank Neumann, display expert.

When it comes to beauty tips they have all the answers!

Young Princess to Forget Duties During Coronation

LONDON (Reuters)—Among the royal, titled and famous guests staying at Buckingham Palace for the Coronation at the special invitation of the Queen will be a pretty, fair-haired nurse not yet out of training.

She is Princess Margherita von Baden, 21, daughter of a noble family in southern Germany and niece of the Duke of Edinburgh.

Dropping her titles, Margherita does a nine-hour day along with other training nurses at St. Thomas' Hospital, a large state-run hospital in shabby, overcrowded Lambeth, South-east London.

The princess, who seldom sees her uncle, puts away her starched uniform May 28 to join her parents at the palace. Her mother is the Duke's eldest sister. The Duke's two other sisters also married German noblemen and live in Bavaria.

Margherita will see the crown-wearing ceremony inside Westminster Abbey June 2 from seats reserved for foreign royalty.

"I love nursing and enjoy every minute of my work," she says, "but I am looking forward enormously to staying at Buckingham Palace with my uncle nurses in grey blue uniforms with white aprons and caps, assisted in serving guests, among whom were Mrs. J. M. Anderson, Mrs. G. Masters, Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, Mrs. J. L. Ford, L. Acres, W. G. Crawford, L. Hobbs and Mrs. F. Gass.

and the Queen. What an honor to be invited."

Margherita began nursing two and one-half years ago after attending a finishing school in Britain. She has moved out of the "probationary" stage of making beds and changing bandages but still has 18 months to go before she is fully qualified. What will she do then? "One cannot plan ahead these days," she says. "In a way, it is more fun not to."

INFORMAL WEDDING

Make Invitations Friendly, Hand-Written If Possible

The bride-to-be who plans an informal wedding should be sure her invitations are in tune with the wedding.

Handwritten invitations are preferable for the informal ceremony, according to J. E. Madson, writing consultant for a famed pen company. They help emphasize the informality of the event.

Don't make the mistake of copying the text of the formal engraved type of invitation. Write in the first person and be as gay and enthusiastic as you please.

Invitations to the bridegroom's family should be written by the bride's mother. The bride should write the notes to her friends and close relatives.

The notes should be handwritten on white or cream paper of top quality. Both note paper and informals are proper. Black, blue-black and blue inks are acceptable.

Writing should be neat and legible, particularly at the mentions of the date, time and place. A fountain pen will give the handwriting more individuality and personality than any other writing tools, says Miss Madson. Blots and crossed-out words are bad form. The former can be avoided by use of a "messproof" pen.

Here's an example of an effective informal invitation:

"Dear Sally: Hal and I have selected two weeks from Saturday—that's the 21st—as our wedding day. We hope you and Dick will be on hand to wish us well. It will be a simple ceremony at 2.30 in St. John's Church on White Avenue. After the wedding, we'll return to my house to share the wedding cake. Love, Eileen."

Plan a Spring Tea in Memorial Hall

Final plans for a spring tea to be held in Memorial Hall Saturday at 2.30, were made by the Evening Branch, Christ Church Cathedral Woman's Auxiliary at a recent meeting. Tea arrangements will be in charge of Miss M. Nicholson; kitchen arrangements, Miss J. Freeson; apron stall, Mrs. Drummond Taylor; home cooking, Miss A. Chow; floral decorations, Mrs. D. Fallon; tea tickets, Miss V. MacLure.

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford
Former Governor to Her Majesty

The intimate biography of Queen Elizabeth, written by her good friend and former Governor Marion Crawford, appears exclusively in the Victoria Daily Times in 26 chapters. Out of her 17 years of close association with the royal family "Crawford" has previously published "The Little Princess" and "Mother and Queen: The Story of Queen Mary."

IX

And still there is that inescapable resemblance of Queen Elizabeth to Queen Victoria, who was so beautiful as a young woman. I remember an old friend of the Royal Family saying to me, as we watched the crowds swirling round the Princess at one of the first garden parties at Buckingham Palace after the war:

"When I was a child I saw Queen Victoria pass in a coach. Although she was very old then, she had in her eyes a calm confidence and determination which I have often seen mirrored in the eyes of Princess Elizabeth."

The remark surprised me a little at the time it was spoken. I had too many happy memories of Princess Elizabeth flushed with laughter, romping in the schoolroom or garden, to see her as a Queen.

But now that I have watched her come into womanhood and take on the Royal dignity that belongs to her, I am convinced that the man at the garden party was right.

There are other things I have remembered, too, as I've watched Princess Elizabeth and her husband Prince Philip together.

DOUBLE BURDEN

I have thought of the responsibilities the Princess must bear at the same time as her duties as a wife and mother.

It was just as much of a trial for her to have her husband overseas making his tour of duty in Malta as it would have been for any other naval officer's wife.

At the same time she had to carry an increasing load of responsibility temporarily lifted from her father's shoulders.

When she at last found time to fly out to her husband, some people were openly critical. No one would have questioned the right of another naval officer's wife to do the same thing, providing she left her children in good hands.

Was Princess Elizabeth to be less a wife because she was Heiress to the Throne?

Surely her stature is the greater because she is indeed a good wife and mother.

And what babies in the world have been left in better hands than those which care for Prince Charles and his sister, Princess Anne? Later I shall show with what kindness they are tended, by two capable nurses, under the watchful, loving eye of their grandmother.

SAILOR FIRST

And Prince Philip, who is a sailor before he is a courtier, is above all a good father, anxious for his children's welfare.

He has lived his life among men who judge one another by their real worth. When he took command of the frigate Magpie in the Mediterranean, he was the youngest Lieutenant-Commander in the flotilla.

A naval friend of mine told me that, though he was always popular in the Navy, there were some who thought his appointment sprang from privilege. They expected him to be "nursed" by an experienced first lieutenant.

But they were wrong, as Prince Philip quickly showed them.

CREW LOST FRIEND

When he left his ship to come home, his crew felt that they had lost not only a brilliant captain, but also a close friend.

For a naturally proud and regal person, Prince Philip has a strange simplicity of approach. I have never seen him other than courteous and correct to everyone. And if he ever meets a shipmate of whatever rank, who has served with him.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Oren Edgar Summers, who had a notable career as a major league baseball pitcher more than two score years ago, died Tuesday at the age of 68.

Most Doukhobors Becoming Good Canadians

Majority of Doukhobors in British Columbia have come a long way toward becoming good Canadians, Attorney-General Robert W. Bonner said here Monday night.

Princess Elizabeth was at the other side of the room. Prince Philip went over to fetch her. "I should like you to meet some friends of mine, darling," he told her.

Then he introduced the waiting couple to her. "This is my wife," he said.

He said some residents in the Slocan area would like to see "thousands of them behind barbed wire."

"Most of the Doukhobors are Canadians, as we are," Mr. Bonner explained, "and deserve the same treatment. Any such act would be a serious threat to our concept of freedom."

ROASTS a la INFRA-RED By STRATHCONA CHEF

Passers-by were stopping in interested wonder today at this unusual sight in the window of the Strathcona Hotel Coffee Shop on Douglas Street. This Infra-Red Rotisserie is the modern adaptation of the ancient method of Spit-Roasting, and has been brought to Victoria and the Strathcona by the Olson brothers Keith and John, who have recently returned after taking a complete hotel and restaurant-management training course . . . Keith at Cornell University, John at the University of Denver. Chef Russel Gee, seen basting the chicken with wine sauce, explains that the Rotisserie method of roasting preserves all the juices and the full flavor, the process taking just over an hour for fowl, and up two and a half hours for a 10-pound joint of beef. It seems as if very particular Strathcona diners will be in for a very particular treat.

Prince Charles May Get There After All

LONDON (CP) — Prince Charles will go to Westminster Abbey "for a period" during the Coronation service, it was announced Monday.

The earl marshal, the Duke of Norfolk, made the announcement at a press conference. He said he has no details as to how long the four-year-old son of the Queen will be present.

Previous reports suggested that the Prince would not go to the Abbey for even a part of the June 2 ceremony. No reason was given today for the apparent change of plan.

Have Crossed Eyes Treated As Early in Life as Possible

A mother with her first-born child often worries for fear that the infant's eyes will be crossed. During the first few months of life a baby's eyes will "float" or wander so that they do not appear to be looking in the same direction. This is normal.

However, after several months, if the eyes fail to move together, parents should then consider the possibility of crossed eyes.

Correctly speaking, eyes are "crossed" when one eye turns inward. Occasionally, however, the eye may turn outward (wall eye) or sometimes things may cause crossed eyes—a blow on the head, heredity, disease, near or far-sightedness, faulty muscles and nervous innervation.

Several kinds of treatment are used for crossed eyes and some of them can be started when a child is a year old. Which of the various methods to use is a matter which must be decided by a physician. It may be that glasses will be recommended and alone can do a good job. Sometimes a patch is placed over the good eye which forces the youngster to use the weaker eye, and thereby force aids the muscles and the vision.

Eye muscle exercises are sometimes prescribed, with or without glasses. One or more operations may be advisable, but this is not considered a dangerous procedure when done by a competent specialist.

The results of treatment do not come at once and it may take a year or more to bring about improvement, but it is worth it.

CHILD FEES HANDICAPS
The poor eyesight that comes with crossed eyes is a severe handicap for any youngster. It interferes with his work in school and his pleasure at play. It can also have a serious psychological effect on the youngster, since playmates may call him "cockeyed" or some other nickname.

It is important to treat crossed eyes as early as possible, since the earlier treatment is started the better the results, even though much can often be done later on.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL
A plant which will delight the beginner as well as satisfy the veteran gardener is not any too common. But such a one is Anemone coronaria, which has been putting on a show of brilliant flowers since early March. In colors of scarlet, blue, white, pink and mauve these have harmonized well with the daffodils and tulips.

So extended a season of bloom is unusual for one member of a family, especially in spring, but when we discover that A. coronaria is a native of the north temperate zones of Europe we realize that our long, slow springs are ideal for its cultivation.

The tubers, which look like pieces of very dry bark from the beach, have the advantage of keeping almost indefinitely in storage. This enables the gardener to plant part of his stock in the fall for spring flowering, and the remainder in the early spring to give fall flowers.

As may be seen from this, A. coronaria is a versatile addition to the garden. Since the flowering season extends from early March until June, or from early September through October, the soil needs to be rich in humus in order to retain moisture and soluble nutrients. Grown under high shade, as of tall trees, A. coronaria will maintain flowers all summer, providing sufficient moisture is supplied.

It is possible to raise a supply of tubers from seed sown now, and kept in the seed-flat in a partially shady spot until next spring, when they should be large enough to set out in the garden.

The flowers are poppy-like in appearance, either single or double according to variety, on stems up to 12 in. Closing tightly each evening and remaining closed on cloudy days, they last individually for as long as a week. As they finally fade, they must be removed to prevent seed from forming. Continuity of bloom is thus assured. At this time of the year, it is a good plan to give the planting a scattering of fertilizer and a thorough watering.

The town of Listowel, 80 miles northwest of Toronto, was named after Listowel in Kerry County, Ireland.

UP IN MABEL'S ROOM

REMEMBER MABEL?
We had a story about her, how she had to take so much guff down at the Home Products Fair, & how she chatted most of the night in the lonely arena with old Rip Van Winkle. Well, Mabel's a little annoyed at us now, 'cause last Sunday morn we backed the truck right up to her bed, yanked off the clothes, took off her arms & wrists, & even her white Nylon nightie, and then threw her in the truck. Her arms, wrists & nightie we more tenderly placed in the cab. Her blonde hair got all twisted, so Hank the driver stuffed it in his pocket.

She's All Glamoured Up Again

tho... as we've transferred "her bedroom" from the Arena to our main floor in the Warehouse. She's got my hat on her blonde curls at the moment, and sure looks kinda silly. We gave her the dickens for smoking in bed, but she says she's fed up looking at the same page in the Ladies Home Journal for hours on end. She's the best salesgal we've ever had tho, so come on down and see her showing off this "White-Mist" bedroom suite. Ask to "go up to Mabel's Room."

HUIIBER'S

FROM WAREHOUSE TO YOUR HOUSE

PAINTING THE TOWN—

Our Sincerest Thanks to Peter Balagno, Color Consultant for the B.A. Paint, and to Mr. McDiarmid, Mgr. of The Paint Supply on Yates St., for lending us "Mabel" and for all their help with their "Miss Bapco." She'll always be "Mabel" to us tho, and incidentally, she looks like she'd just L-O-V-E to step out, and "PAINT THE TOWN"... with Bapco Products of course.

CHRYSLER NEW YORKER DELUXE 4-DOOR SEDAN
"Power Steering is optional equipment at extra cost—available on all '53 Chrysler models."

Chrysler FirePower V-8, the engine with hemispherical combustion chambers, gets most power out of every drop of gas—and non-premium gas at that! It is the power-plant of the New Yorker and Imperial models.

Its beauty intrigues you... and you'll feel the difference in the first few seconds driving the Chrysler FirePower V-8. This radically new-type V-8 engine, with the hemispherical combustion chambers, gives you unequalled response—amazing acceleration to pass safely. Chrysler Full-Time Power Steering does four-fifths of the work for you... helps you to steer easily—all the time—and park with one finger! Special Chrysler Power Brakes let you stop with less than half the usual pedal pressure... smoother, easier, faster than you've ever known! Here is new safety and performance you never dreamed you could find... plus the most captivating beauty on the highway today. More than ever, you'll be proud to be judged by the car you own, when your friends pause to remark...

The circus is the theme of Bob Hope's night radio show tonight when beautiful Jane Greer will be the special guest star. The show is heard on KEMO at 8.

Bob joins the local circus as a lion-tamer, where he meets the Great Ramona (Miss Greer), who trains seals. Naturally, they fall in love, but the Great Ramona loses his nerve in the cage with the big cats.

Thrush Margaret Whiting will sing a beautiful and haunting rendition of "April in Portugal," accompanied by Les Brown and his band.

Throckmorton P. Gledersleeve tries to impress his wealthy neighbor, Mrs. Pettibone, by telling her he is going to Europe, on tonight's edition of "The Great Gledersleeve" on KOMO at 9.30.

Mrs. Pettibone informs the local newspapers and Gledy is almost forced to carry out his bragging to save his face.

Eileen Heckart of Broadway's Pulitzer-Prize-winning play, "Picnic" and Rosemary Rice, last seen on the stage in "Junior Miss," will be featured in "Roadhouse," a story of a blackmailing racket on "FBI in Peace and War" on KIRO at 9. Miss Heckart portraying a hardened extortionist, will rush to the theatre where she will play a small-town school teacher.

Ottawa Planning Insurance for Fishermen

OTTAWA (CP)—Fisheries Minister Sinclair said Tuesday night that the government has decided to inaugurate a plan of fishermen's insurance to cover fishermen's boats and their gear.

The minister gave no other details immediately but told members of the Commons he would give a full explanation of the plan later during consideration of his estimates.

He said the explanation would be given when the House reached an item for $250,000 in the supplementary estimates. This provides for establishment of the "fishermen's indemnity loan plan" to assist fishermen meet abnormal capital losses.

NAME ON LIST

Kiwanis Village Praised

A great rush on homes in Kiwanis Village was forecast on Tuesday by Dr. W. G. Wilson, retired minister of the First United Church.

Guest speaker at a Kiwanis luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel, he lauded the action of the club in providing the haven for aged couples.

He said he had just inspected the nearly complete first six units of the village and was thrilled by what he saw.

"My name goes on the list," he said. Dr. Wilson, 82, knows well the problems of the senior citizens here.

He recalled the opening of the east wing of Jubilee Hospital 30 years ago, which was constructed mainly by Kiwanis effort.

LOOKED TO FUTURE: "It was a maternity wing then and you were so successful that now we are swamped with youngsters and the taxpayers are complaining at school costs."

"It may have been this circumstance that brought you to build Kiwanis Village, where the same problem will not likely arise again," he added, chuckling.

"We have the highest average of old people of any Canadian city, not surprising in view of the climate, and you are the only people that have faced the problem with vision."

"People who retired on pension plans they started 50 years ago find now that their pension has little value. They face the setting sun with terror, hoping the city will bury them."

"Those that are fortunate enough to live in Kiwanis Village will find the transition to that 'house of many mansions' will not be so very great," he concluded.

Nanaimo's Ex-Magistrate, C. H. Beever-Potts Buried

NANAIMO.—Funeral services were held here Tuesday for Charles Herbert Beever-Potts, 89, police magistrate for 30 years until his retirement in 1945, who died in Nanaimo Hospital Saturday.

Born in Sussex, England, he was articled to a London solicitor and was admitted to practice in 1888. He arrived in Nanaimo a year later, and was called to the British Columbia bar in 1895.

He was an active athlete as a young man, having been a member of the old Hornet Rugby Club, and of the Nanaimo Cricket Club. He was fond of hunting and fishing, and was still a powerful swimmer at the age of 80.

During his career Mr. Beever-Potts administered oaths of office to city councilors for 32 years. He served variously as stipendiary magistrate for Nanaimo county, judge of small debts court and juvenile court judge.

His wife died in 1944. Surviving are three sons, Magistrate Lionel Beever-Potts, Nanaimo; Dr. C. H. Beever-Potts, Duncan, and William G. Lantzville, and two daughters, Mrs. R. G. Good and Mrs. G. E. B. Daniell, both of Nanaimo.

LAKE COWICHAN — Kinsmen Club here has organized an ambulance fund for the purchase of a custom-built vehicle to replace the present ambulance now serving the village and surrounding district.

LONDON—Don Cockell, 207, London, equipped Johnny Williams, 184, Ruffy, 13 for British Empire heavyweight title.

Dr. Norman Goodwin, P.C. Candidate for Esquimalt

Will speak at Methosin Anglican Hall Wednesday, May 13, at 8 p.m. Speakers, Monty Drake, R. H. Fort and H. A. Piggett. Also on Thursday, May 14, Sooke Community Hall at 8 p.m. Speaker, Art Chapman, Victoria candidate.

HALF-DEAD AT 40? GET RENEWED VITALITY

Read how you may help blood renew worn-out body cells, tissues, this amazing way!

Today, thousands of people over forty are living half-dead lives. They are tired-out, rundown, jittery, because their body cells and tissues are not being renewed by their blood. Yes, their blood may be literally tired out—from lack of certain life-giving elements needed by every human being, every day.

Why are these people always tired? Here's the answer. Normal healthy blood teems with red cells which carry life-giving substances to every cell in the body. But during middle life, the red cell content of the blood may range as much as 10% to 20% below normal. When this happens, you start feeling tired more often.

Then two things may start to take place. First, your blood may not be able to carry needed life-giving substances to your body cells and tissues quickly enough to renew them faster than they live. Second, these life-giving elements may be "burned up" for energy to offset your tired condition, thus further depriving your body cells.

Murder Charge In Death of Man On Vancouver Tug

VANCOUVER (CP)—A murder charge has been laid against Harold Ernest Graham, 31, following an inquest into the death of a fellow crew member of the Vancouver tugboat LaPointe.

The charge was laid Tuesday night by RCMP after a coroner's jury decided Sylvio Zanatta, 39, died of an "unnatural death due to injuries received during an altercation" aboard the tug.

Originally, Graham had been charged with assault causing grievous bodily harm.

Zanatta's body was found early Sunday after the tug had left Bellingham, Wash., 70 miles to the south, on a return voyage to Vancouver.

Graham will appear in police court Thursday.

Knifed to Death

CALGARY (CP)—Brian Snell, 17, of Calgary was knifed to death in a back yard fight Tuesday night. Police arrested another 17-year-old, Robert Ronald Yokete, seven and one-half hours after the knifing and charged him with murder.

'I USED TO WATCH MUMMY'

Mother Dead, 4-Year-Old Feeds Baby Sister Alone Four Days

BLOXWICH, Eng. (Reuters)—Ever since Christmas four-year-old Jeanette Cockayne played mother with her doll, Suzette, who is about the size of baby sister Carol.

She fed Suzette regularly with her doll's feeding bottle full of water.

One day in April Jeanette's mother, Mrs. Jean Cockayne, 27, lay still on her bed. Jeanette tried to awaken her because she was hungry and eight-month-old Carol was crying for her bottle.

Jeanette did not know her mother had died in a diabetic coma.

Her father, policeman Gilbert Cockayne, was out of town. The house was empty and Carol kept crying.

Jeanette was too short to reach the door lock to get out and bring help. She tried knocking on the windows and waving to passing neighbors. They just waved back.

So she decided to take over where mother left off. She got her doll's bottle, filled it with water and fed Carol.

"I used to watch Mummy give Carol her bottle," Jeanette said Tuesday night. "I gave it to her lots of times."

She was just tall enough to reach the cookie jar on the shelf. She shared the cookies with her baby sister. She ate the rest and drank cups of water.

For four days this went on and still nobody came "to help me wake Mummy up."

Then a neighbor noticed too many milk bottles on the Cockaynes' front step. A housewife knocked on the door and whispered to Jeanette to stand on a chair and open the door.

They found Mrs. Cockayne dead in her bed. Little Carol was smiling and healthy.

The story was revealed here Tuesday night—a month after Jeanette mothered her little sister through.

The children are being cared for by their grandparents in this village. Nobody has told Jeanette that her mother is dead. She thinks they have taken her to hospital.

Britain-Egypt Near Breaking Point

Commandos, Warships Reinforce Canal Zone

CAIRO, Egypt (UP)—Britain today ordered her Suez Canal defenses reinforced by tough, battle-ready marine commandos and a squadron of destroyers as her relations with the new government of Premier Mohammed Naguib neared the breaking point.

American authorities, alarmed by the threat of new, open hostilities in the sensitive Mid-East, held urgent consultations with the British.

In London, U.S. Ambassador Winthrop Aldrich paid an unscheduled visit to Prime Minister Winston Churchill, presumably to discuss the worsening crisis.

Hopes that American intervention could head off the new crisis were blighted as the Egyptian press angrily charged U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, now on a fact-finding tour of the Mid-East, with entering a "conspiracy" of evil with Britain against Egypt.

British authorities were frankly apprehensive of new hostilities.

Troops of the 80,000-man British garrison in the Suez Canal zone today dug new slit trenches, repaired barbed wire and got set for possible Egyptian attacks.

GENERAL ALERT

A general alert for British forces in Egypt was sounded after Premier Naguib announced Egypt's determination to oust British forces from the disputed area and urged his followers to die to assert Egypt's sovereignty.

British marine commandos were hastily embarked aboard troop carriers and supply ships at Malta for the trip, under forced draft, to the threatened canal zone. The commandos are among Britain's most experienced and toughest fighting men.

A destroyer squadron was diverted to the canal zone as a cruise along the Yugoslav coast to "beef up" the British defenses.

The decision to reinforce the zone was taken simultaneously with disclosures in Parliament Tuesday of at least 30 incidents involving attacks on Britons in the zone since April 1.

Collapse of deadlocked Anglo-Egyptian negotiations on the future of the canal zone was expected momentarily amid the mounting tension.

Military spokesmen said all possible defense measures were being taken by British forces in anticipation of that development.

Negotiations became stymied on Egyptian demands for immediate and unconditional evacuation of British forces from the canal zone and British insistence that arrangements must be made for gradual withdrawal under conditions guaranteeing the protection and continued maintenance of huge, costly and strategic installations in the zone.

Bennett Denies Secreds Take Straw Vote

KAMLOOPS, B.C. (CP)—Premier Bennett today denied that either he or the B.C. Social Credit League has or is conducting a straw vote survey in defiance of the B.C. Elections Act.

The party leader made the statement on his tour of B.C.'s interior, after top CCF officials had charged Monday that Social Credit was behind a political public opinion poll being taken on Vancouver Island.

CCF candidate Bob Strachan said today he would ask Cowichan-Newcastle returning officer, Brig. G. R. Bradbrooke of Duncan, to lay an information against Watts Marketing Research, Vancouver, whom Strachan says is doing the work.

Speaking at Nanaimo Monday night, Attorney-General Bonner denied Mr. Strachan's charge as "typical wild opposition tactics."

Tacoma Hockey Club Out of Operation

TACOMA (UP)—The Western Hockey League Tacoma Rockets will not play next season, coach Muzz Patrick revealed today.

"We just were not making enough money," Patrick said in a telephone conversation from Seattle, where he is attending a league conference.

However, Patrick said league officials have granted him a "league suspension" which will allow him to keep the franchise here for another year in which time Patrick said he hoped Tacoma would support the team for a fresh start in 1954.

"But there won't be any hockey in Tacoma next year," he said.

B.C. PAPER FIRMS TO BE PROSECUTED

Ottawa Charges Distributors, Wholesalers Operate Combine; Companies Identified

OTTAWA (BUP)—Justice Minister Stuart Garson told the Commons today he had ordered crown officials to launch prosecution proceedings against the coarse paper industry of the Vancouver area for violations of the Combines Act.

Garson said the report by the former combines commissioner, T. D. Macdonald, on an alleged combine in the supply, distribution and sale of paper towels, bags and wrappings had been reviewed by attorneys.

"It is the opinion of counsel that prosecution is warranted by the evidence," Garson said, "and orders for prosecution have been issued. Provincial authorities have notified us they will co-operate."

Macdonald's report, published in February, charged that a combine, operating to restrict competition, existed in the B.C. coarse paper trade when the investigation began in 1949.

The distributors named were Columbia Paper Company, Ltd., Kelly, Douglas and Company, Ltd., Norfolk Paper Co. Ltd., Smith, Davidson and Wright Ltd., Vancouver Pacific Paper Co. Ltd., and J. C. Wilson, Ltd., all members of the council.

Macdonald said other whole sale firms "which from time to time knowingly assisted in the operation of the combine" were the W. H. Malkin Co. Ltd. and, to a lesser extent, the Vancouver Supply Co. Ltd.

He named Pacific Mills, Ltd., Westminster Paper Co., Ltd., and Bartram Paper Products Co., Ltd., as manufacturers who "from time to time knowingly assisted in the operation of the combine."

LIBERAL SAYS TORIES' DREW 'AT THE END OF HIS TETHER'

PARIS, Ont. (BUP)—Former Ontario premier Harry Nixon, now a Liberal member of the Legislature, predicted Tuesday night that the Progressive Conservative Party would look for a new leader after the next federal election.

Nixon told the Brent Liberal Association that George Drew had "reached the end of his tether." He did not speculate on the name of any possible new Conservative leader.

"M' Cousin Zach don't follow politics very close. Sez what's all this he hears about a Socially Incredible Party."

This election says one record anyways. It's 'th' fust in history where any candidate said it wuz a "lousy trick" 't ask what his party stood for.

MOSCOW FORESEES SPLIT IN U.K.-U.S. RELATIONS

MOSCOW (AP)—The Russian press today reported on Prime Minister Churchill's foreign policy speech Monday to the House of Commons. There is reason to believe Moscow is interpreting the mixed reception to the speech as indication of widening differences between the U.S. and Britain.

The approval of Churchill's ideas in certain sections of French politics apparently also is not lost upon the Russians. The development of conflict of opinion between the United States and its European partners often has been predicted here, and reactions in Britain, the United States and France to the Churchill speech may be looked upon by the Russians as the beginning of a series of such conflicts.

Full-Scale CD Alert Planned For June 20

Citizens to Take Part in Exercise That Will Include Pacific States, Alberta

British Columbians will take part in their first civil defense "alert" exercise on the morning of June 20, provincial civil defense headquarters announced today.

At the sounding of the "red alert" citizens will be required to take cover and act just as if a real attack was imminent. Civil defense personnel will take their posts and carry out emergency activities.

Suggested time for the "red alert" is 9:30 a.m.

Provincial Secretary Wesley Black, who is in charge of civil defense, said the final decision as to whether each community will participate will be left to local authorities.

But he urged all areas to take part because it will "provide an opportunity to inform the general public of the accepted civil defense teaching to meet an emergency of this nature."

"The exercise will give local authorities an opportunity to acquaint as large a section of the general public as possible with the steps they can take themselves to lessen the effects of an all-out attack on this country," Mr. Black said.

B.C. will participate in the sprawling exercise with Pacific Northwest states and possibly Alberta.

Mr. Black explained that at a predetermined time which will be co-ordinated between all parties, municipal warning systems will sound a "red alert."

Britain Seen Headed For Second 'Munich'

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. William F. Knowland (Rep., Calif.) charged today that Britain is preparing for "a Far Eastern Munich," which Knowland contended will make a third world war "inevitable."

He said also that the recent policy speeches of British Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Labor Party Leader Clement R. Attlee indicate the United States will be left in a position of "going it alone" in fighting Communists in Asia.

Knowland, in a speech prepared for senate delivery, condemned the British leaders' speeches, and predicted that the upshot will be an effort to seat Communist China in the United Nations.

Knowland, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, used some of the harshest language heard about Britain in many years. Other senators' mean while warned against a Communist "trap" in the current Korean armistice talks.

Associated Press quoted chairman Dewey Short of the House of Representatives armed services committee as saying Congress is tired of taking "dictation from our so-called allies."

The Missouri Republican made the remark in joining angry congressional reaction to statements in the British House of Commons Tuesday that some Americans do not want to settle the Korean war.

Knowland said the United States should not accept a Korean cease-fire agreement without first getting a "binding pledge" from Russia and Communist China of free elections in North Korea. Unless this is "Our chief Allies in the United Nations are prepared to urge and to insist upon the admission of Communist China to the United Nations and to a seat on the security council."

"We will then be faced with the choice of consenting to this manoeuvre or again of facing the wrath of the Chinese Communists alone with the implication that they will have the support of the Soviet Union wherein we cannot be assured of the support of our Allies or of the United Nations," Knowland said.

He forecast an eventual Red China bid for Formosa, the Chinese Nationalist island strong hold. He predicted it will be patterned after Hitler's promise at Munich that Czechoslovakia was his last territorial claim.

"Like Mr. Chamberlain at Munich, Messrs. Churchill, Attlee and Bevan may believe that they will be 'buying peace on our time.' The tragic fact is that they will only be making inevitable World War III for if our stout Allies were so intimidated by this nation taking the only steps which could have been taken to win the Korean war during the past two and one-half years how can we expect them to stand up against this inevitable Chinese Communist demand," Knowland said.

Other members of Congress bristled with resentment at Attlee's attack on this government and its foreign policy.

Both Republicans and Democrats said Attlee was way out of bounds when he told the House of Commons Tuesday that "some elements" in this country want to continue the Korean war.

The former Labor prime minister also criticized the U.S. constitution as an outmoded "19th-century document," and said the division of powers which it creates in the U.S. government makes it questionable "which is the more powerful, the president or Sen. McCarthy."

None of this was well received on Capitol Hill.

Chairman Alexander Wiley (Wisconsin) of the Senate foreign relations committee said, "No one has any right" to question this country's sincere desire for peace in Korea and all over the world.

He advised Attlee to "remember that this country has already spent $400,000,000 to work for peace" through the Marshall Plan and other foreign aid programs.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said Attlee's speech will stimulate the Congressional drive for sharp cuts in the pending $5,800,000,000 foreign aid bill. He angrily told a reporter that Attlee had struck "a terrific blow at the hand that feeds Britain."

Sen. John C. Stennis (D-Miss.) was more grieved than angry. "It is a tragedy of our times," he said, "that the English-speaking nations cannot get together on Asiatic policy."

giving the clenched fist salute," McCarthy said.

Rep. James P. Fulton (R., Pa.), of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said Attlee showed a "misunderstanding" of U.S. policy. "The American attitude is not one of antagonism toward the peace overtures from Russia, but one of wanting to see that the gestures are sincere and based on a practical approach toward a just and peaceful settlement."

Attlee Remembered by McCarthy

Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) said Attlee seemed to be favoring a "stalemate" sit-down in Korea, one which could be very costly as the Communists build new air bases to resume the attacks; we all want peace but most of us here want a worthwhile peace."

McCarthy, when apprised of Attlee's reference to him, displayed an enlarged newspaper picture of Attlee which he said showed the Party leader with Communist Spanish generals during the Spanish Civil War in 1937.

"When I hear Attlee making statements of that kind, I think of the picture of him reviewing Communist troops in Spain and

Nazi-Made U.S. Bills in England

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard warned tourists today to beware of fake United States $100 bills, printed from plates made by the Nazis during the Second World War, which may be offered to them in London.

Three men convicted of dealing in the counterfeit bills were jailed Tuesday after a trial at the Old Bailey Court. But the masterminds, known to the London underworld as "Polish Henry" and "Mr. Zigi," are still at large.

Reds Renew Gas, Germ War Charges

LONDON (Reuters)—The Communist New China news agency claimed today that United Nations forces had used poison gas shells on the Korean front.

The report followed renewed charges that the Allied forces in Korea were using germ warfare.

China Reds Reject UN Truce Plan

A Peiping broadcast accused American negotiators of "stalling tactics" and declared the new plan for dealing with prisoners was put forward "knowing it would be unacceptable and block the armistice in Korea."

MUZZ TO COME HERE?

Tacoma Out of WHL For Year at Least

By BILL WALKER
Times Sports Editor

Possibility that coach Murray "Muzz" Patrick of Tacoma Rockets may be associated with Victoria Cougars in the Western Hockey League next season was rife today, following announcement that the Tacoma club would suspend operations for a year.

General manager Fred Hutchinson of the Cougars would neither confirm nor deny such a likelihood.

Contacted at Seattle where the annual WHL meeting is being held, Hutchinson said: "We haven't even discussed it. He declined to comment further, except to answer 'that's got nothing to do with it,' when asked if Patrick may join the local club because of the Tacoma move.

Owner Lester Patrick of the Cougars could not be reached for comment.

The rumor of Murray Patrick coming here to take over the reins of the local club has gained impetus during the last few months.

Muzz, too, has often stated, "I like Victoria and always did; I have a lot of friends there."

Status of Ed Dorohoy, coach of the Cougars last year, is not known except that Dorohoy was signed for one year at the beginning of the 1952-53 season.

In announcing the move by Tacoma, Patrick is reported as saying: "We're not making enough money. There will be no hockey in Tacoma next year."
